"We've Got Spirit, Yes We Do!"

This year Blair proved to everyone that what a school lacks in size it can make up in spirit! The enthuasiasm of the students was tremendous and they lost no opportunity to display it. At pep assemblies, games, and in school, students could be seen wearing Viking shirts, buttons, and hats and heard chanting, "We're number 1!" Each individual class strove to be the most zealous by out-yelling, out-chanting, and out-cheering each other.

The enthusiasm of the students was boosted by a fantastic football season. Students flocked to support their team and show their school spirit. They cheered, clapped, and danced to the yells of the cheerleaders, music of the band, and beat of the drum corps.

None could claim they had more spirit as the Blairites left the field strewn with confetti and adorned in green and gold, still yelling despite hoarse voices.

Putting Our Best Foot Forward

Our years at Blair are only one stretch in the paths our lives will take. For most of us it is a crucial one. Our experiences during this period will effect the direction of our lives. We hope that we have all moved forward through growing, learning, and relating to others.

By trying to put our best foot forward in everything we do, from a vocabulary test to a school production, we have learned our limitations as well as our excellences. Both our failures and victories have taught us the importance of achieving our highest performance. We have also realized the essentialness of setting goals. With motivation to continue moving forward we will not come to a standstill.

Our appreciation of this time will heighten with the approach of the next phase in our journey. We will realize that the many close relationshps we have built, the knowledge we have gained, and the sense of confidence which we have strived to attain have strengthened us for the challenges we will meet in the "outside" world.

Some of the steps we take at Blair we will wish to retrace in our minds many times, and so we will turn to SAGA 1981 to put our memories in motion.

ACTIVITIES

Participation in Blair's avtivities was exceptionally high this year. Activities have always been an important part of student life, offering students another side to their education. With the revived enthusiasm and togetherness of the student body, the activities were more popular and therefore more successful. Those who took part gained in not only enjoyable moments but also unforgetable memories.

PEP SQUAD

Our Spirit Is Sky High

One of the key ingredients to success is spirit. It is the job of the Pep Squad to inspire spirit in Blair's athletes to help them overcome defeat. In view of this year's victories it appears that the Pep Squad did an excellent job.

Being. a member of the Pep Squad was a tough and demanding task. In order to become a member, a girl had to face stiff competition. There were many hopeful applicants at the spring Pep Squad tryouts, but only a handful were lucky enough to become part of the Squad. Once members of the Squad, the girls had to practice diligently third period and after school. But, their practice paid off as evidenced by the mass of wildly enthusiastic students and onlookers at this year's games.

Besides performing before the crowd, the Pep Squad also had the responsibility of treating the sports teams. Thanks to the organization and direction of Mrs. Cheryl Brown and Pep Commissioner Felita Lewis, the girls had a successful and spirited year.

Cheers!

With the help of the Pep Squad, the crowd becomes enthusiastic for their team.

MARCHING

New Director Revives Band

One of the reasons for the success of this year's Marching Band was due to the return of Mr. Stephen Kaminsky. After spending a year at Muir High, three-and-a-half years at McKinley Junior High, and a year's sabbatical at USC, Mr. Kaminsky returned to restore Blair's tradition of enthusiastic participation in the band. Many students who had been under his direction in previous years, joined this year's band to renew their association with him.

Instead of the usual standardized formations and rigid uniforms, this year's band used eye-catching ideas such as dressing up in costume and the chaotic "scatter drill". These new and different routines helped to create a more effective and original half time.

Mr. Kaminsky and the dedication of this year's Marching Band remedied the shortage of members and contributed to a season of lively and entertaining performances. Thanks band, you were FANTASTIC!!

TALL FLAGS

Tall Flags Add Flare To Blair

The Banner Corps was again one of the highlights of the half time shows performed at Pasadena City College and the Rose Bowl. Their coordinated and flashy performances accented the formations of the band.

Under the leadership of Terry Lewis with guidance and coaching from veteran John Marsh, the Tall Flag girls practiced their routines with great dedication until synchronized and flawless. Once perfected, their routines were presented at assemblies and games.

DRILL TEAM

During practice, Latarsha Garland smiles intently as she concentrates on her routine.

Drill Team Adds Spice

One of the most frustrating predicaments a person can encounter is being a necessary component of an important performance and yet receiving little or no public commendation. This is a problem for the Drill Team. They perform a needed function during half time shows by carrying the school emblem, and yet they receive little gratitude. But, this is of little concern to the dedicated girls on the team; they strive for perfection rather than being concerned with attention.

This being only their second year of existence, the Drill Team looks surprisingly experienced. Drum Major Terry Lewis has taught them well. In time, as their performances become more appreciated, they will be shown the recognition they deserve.

DRUM COR

Drum Corps Members: Tommy O'Bryant, Troy Johnson, Cheri Davis, John Smith, Scott Bass, Brandon Benn, Sheldon Webster, Nick Petrov, Jeff Guy, John Edgar, Monty Allen, Ian Harrington, Lloyd White, John Green, Joaquin Henderson

Drum Corps Keeps The Beat

If there was one thing that inspired the most enthusiasm in the student body, it was the Drum Corps. The pulsating rhythm and synchronized tempo of the drums seemed to make people come alive and stand up and cheer. This inspiration was put to good use at the equally successful football games.

The Drum Corps practiced after school, during lunchtime, and with the band before school. Finding time when everyone was able to practice was difficult because many members were involved in other extracurricular activities. However, they used the time available productively.

This year's Drum Corps was different in two ways: first, the Corps performed and marched with the band; and second, this was the first year it had a female member, Sherry Davis. Both proved to be assets and the entire Drum Corps was appreciated by all.

Old Tradition Broken

Two weeks of excitement and worry ended in one night for the 1980-81 Queen Debra Scherer, and her court, Lisa Kelley, Vivian Vita, Mike Miele, and Kelly Griswold. This year's Homecoming will be remembered not only for its pretty young women but also for its handsome young man. This was the first year a male student was voted as a member of the Homecoming court.

Sophomore Prince, Mike Miele, was nominated by popular vote and was proud to take this honor to represent the class of '83. There were, of course, a few hostile feelings about his nomination but these soon ended when Mike carried the honor with dignity and pride. This, of course, challenged the old tradition of having a court of "girls". It opened a new idea for the coming years, that maybe a King and his court, along with the Queen and her court, would be possible.

The night was a first in more than one way. This year's half time activity was larger than ever. The class officers, ASB cabinet, school administrators, and superintendent of schools, Mr. Ramon Cortines, all contributed to the festivities. Along with the Queen and her court, they shared in all the excitement which included parading around the field in Model T Fords. This large "parade" was a first, not only for Blair, but for the Pasadena District as well.

To make the evening even more enjoyable and memorable for the Queen and her court, the football team won a thrilling victory.

C.I.F. PLAY-OFFS

The Thrill Of Victory

In high school athletic competition, the epitome of success is achieved when a team reaches the C.I.F. play-offs. This year, Blair teams reached C.I.F. in most of the major sports; football, water polo, soccer, and basketball. In addition, many individual competitors were selected to play in C.I.F. from the track, tennis, and swim teams.

All of Blair's athletic teams, not just the ones that attained the heights of the C.I.F., should be commended for their teamwork and dedication. However, being selected for C.I.F. playoffs is an added factor that bolsters our pride in Blair and one means by which we prove that Blair High is the best!

Basketball?

How can a serious sport such as basketball be converted into a comedy of hilarious antics? Simple, by letting jackasses play it! That's what happens at the annual Donkey Basketball game. The game, a fund raiser for the Blair Baseball team, was a duel between Blair's faculty and the baseball players.

Due to the pre-game selling of tickets and successful advertising, this year's game was well attended by many enthusiastic onlookers. Parents and friends laughed and cheered as the asses would stumble around the court. The donkeys would buck and kick, often hurling their riders onto the hard gym floor. This resulted in a few bumps and bruises, but nobody complained. They were all used to pain, especially the students. The score was fairly close throughout the game, but the superiority of the students prevailed. The winning basket was scored in the last few seconds by Keith Houlemard to put the baseball players ahead of the faculty, 48-46. The game's prime concern was to raise money and to have fun. It succeeded!

DANCES

Although Mr. Wallace gave Aimee Remanick a D in World Geography, he gives her a B+ in dancing.

Punk Or Funk?

Dances have always been a time for students to gather together and enjoy an activity that has universal appeal. This year's dances can be characterized by the diversity of music. Unlike the preceeding years which were dominated by disco, the repertoire of this year's dances included rock, funk, disco, and punk. This resulted in well attended events. There was a mixture of races and tastes represented at this year's dances.

As you can see, Blair's dances have become a place to display not only one's talents but also one's personality.

A.S.B. Tackles New Issues

This year's A.S.B. was faced with many new obstacles and interesting encounters. The year was destined to be one of the most trying. Under the much needed and appreciated guidance of Mrs. Cheryl Brown and the two A.S.B. cabinets, student representatives worked hard to put on some good assemblies and tried to break the monotony of past programs. School tradition was tested with the election of a Prince at Homecoming. A suggestion to change the school fight song stirred heated discussion within the government class. The new fight song was voted down but the signs of time and change were evident.

The main goal of the student government was to improve A.S.B.-student relationships. The suggestion box became the main means of communication because, unhappily, vandalism destroyed the A.S.B. bulletin board.

The class participated in several Foothill League Forums and enjoyed an exchange with La Cananda High School to learn and to share ideas about school process.

Faced with the usual criticism of schoolmates, the A.S.B. was able to pull Blair through another successful and challenging year.

SIP Makes Improvements

The School Improvement Plan was initiated at the beginning of the 1979-80 school year by the Pasadena Board of Education. Committees formed at each of the high schools submitted three-year plans for improvement of their schools and the approved plans were implemented in the fall of this year.

The SIP Committee is composed of administrators, faculty, staff, students, and parents. Overall goals established by the committee included an improvement of school morale and spirit, promotion of ASB-student communication, and responsiveness to student needs. Special problems discussed have included concerns regarding the cafeteria, attendance and tardiness programs, and improvements in the curriculum.

A proposal made to build a new auditorium was denied. However, a request for funds to initiate a noon time program was accepted and a grant of $2,500 was made to conduct the program. The ICC (Inter-Club Council) was created to supervise the activities sponsored by the clubs.

School SIP Committee reports were given at a District-wide meeting held for all committees in January at the Brookside Clubhouse. Blair's SIP Committee was in full attendance.

ORCHESTRA

Tony Lopez continues to play his clarinet while Jeffrey Cain realizes that he is looking at the wrong page.

Jessica Lambert is soothed into tranquility by the beauty of her music.

Talent Overcomes Size

The heart of this year's orchestra consisted of approximately ten dedicated musicians, most of whom were Freshmen. The number of members frequently changed because of recruits and those who were forced to drop the class as a result of schedule conflicts. Despite this inconsistency, they managed to be successful due to a talented backbone and strong leadership.

Mr. Kaminsky resumed his conductorship at Blair this year after an absence of five years. He took on the difficult task of reinstalling a strong musical program at Blair. His one advantage was the participation of several noted musicians who had been members of All-Southern California Orchestra as well as All-City.

The orchestra performed in the Christmas Concert as a group and also accompanied the choir. Their success will hopefully attract other musicians to join the group next year.

STAGE BAND

Above: In the chilly early morning, stage band members bring their instruments and themselves back to life.

Band Stirs Crowd

The stage band, a gifted group of eighteen dedicated students, was the most enthusiastic instrumental group to be seen at Blair in recent years. Inspiring their audiences by playing contemporary tunes, the stage band took an active role in rousing the spirits of the crowd. They performed primarily at basketball games and made occasional appearances at assemblies and during lunch.

Their aim was to play popular and appealing music. This was achieved by using songs from movies, television, and radio. Students from all grades were represented and the variety of talent led to the formation of new ideas and new leaders. It was the job of Conductor Stephen Kaminsky to bring together this diversity of skillful musicians. His leadership and dedication led to the successful organization of this popular group.

DRAMA

Play It Off

If you were fortunate enough to see one of the drama class plays this year, you are familiar with the talent and creativity for which Blair has received acclaim in this and past years.

In November, under the direction of Mr. Jim Coday, the class staged "Tom Jones", a lighthearted romp adapted from the Fielding novel. In March, the class made an equally successful attempt at a more serious play, Samuel Taylor's "Sabrina Fair". Both endeavors were well-received, not only by Blair students, but district wide as well, since some of the other high schools have had their share of problems in recent years.

Outstanding performances by individual actors in both plays mainly accounted for their high quality. Particularly memorable was the work of actors Tom Wood, Matthew Oberholtzer, Renee Pickering, and Lita Haido. But, by far the most important factor (ask any drama student), was the direction of Jim Coday. His talents and caring have helped many students grow into capable young performers during his ten years at Blair.

Learning to act, and to accept the responsibility and discipline that is inseparable from serious drama, takes a great deal of time and dedication. For some, it becomes life's work.

Looking forward, we can only remember . . . when you care enough, anything's possible.

KALEIDOSCOPE 1981

It Was All Worth It!

Within the microcosm of Blair High School there exists a group of people as unique as the school itself. This organization is the Blair chorus. It consists of approximately sixty members who have one thing in common, their love for music. This love for music accounts for the strong sense of unity that is a trademark of the group. This unity, along with hours and hours of practice and dedication, becomes the foundation for one of the finest achievements of each school year, the annual spring show.

Numerous lunch and after school hours were spent diligently learning music and dance steps from the beginning of second semester to the final dress rehearsal. Problems seemed to arise almost immediately. The need for male voices was ever present, with the girls outnumbering the boys by almost two to one. Tense tryouts were held, after which seating charts had to be arranged, voices defined, costumes sewn, and tickets sold. As spring crept upon these students, the pressure became intense as last minute deadlines needed to be met and final touches added.

The fact that this year was the tenth anniversary of Kaleidoscope for Blair gave the production a sense of nostalgia and esteem. This was also the second year the spring show had the honor of being presented at one of the finest and most elegant auditoriums in California - namely, the Ambassador Auditorium.

There was, among the many people involved in this production, one who deserves special mention, Mr. James Coday. Mr. Coday was the director of the show, and devoted countless hours of his time both on and off the job. He not only assumed the responsibility of director, but also of producer, creator, production manager, friend, and critic. Without him, the cast of Kaleidoscope '81 would have been just another fifty-two faces in the crowd. And you ask, was it worth it? Just ask anyone who attended the performances and you'll learn your answer!

And the show begins!

SENIOR DITCH DAY

Going Going Gone!!

Seniors Do It Again

One day each year the Seniors take it upon themselves, in all their infinite wisdom, to command the populous of their classes to abscond from the campus of Blair High in an illegal holiday. Leaving classrooms empty and hallways crawling with underclassmen, the Seniors "ditched" school in the hopes of simulating the freedom of summer.

Many of the Seniors were not unaccustomed to taking these illicit vacations, feeling that the school year was too long and attempted to shorten it with individual action. This, however, was special, because it was a group endeavor, and therefore a more memorable "ditch". The Seniors achieved almost one hundred percent participation, except for a few students who were physically hindered by parents or held back by paltry examinations.

Caravaning to the local beaches, Seniors started their tans, or began their sunburns. Some sought the lights and glory of Hollywood by invading Universal Studios. A few of this number overwhelmed the movie industry and reached fame and fortune by replacing injured or maimed stunt men in one of the many horror movies being filmed. Then, or course, there were those Blairites who were never seen at school again! But that is of no consequence; what really mattered was that they had fun.

PROM PREPARATION

Will I Make It?

"Who should I ask?
Who can I take?
Why do guys have
This decision to make?"

"Look at this dress
200 bucks!
Why can't girls
Just rent a tux?"

"Come on Dad
Just for the Prom
I can't show up
In my old bomb!"

"Crimp it, curl it,
Pull it back
I can't take anymore
I'm going to crack!"

"Roses, carnations
I don't know which
Hell, I'll get daisies
I'm not rich!"

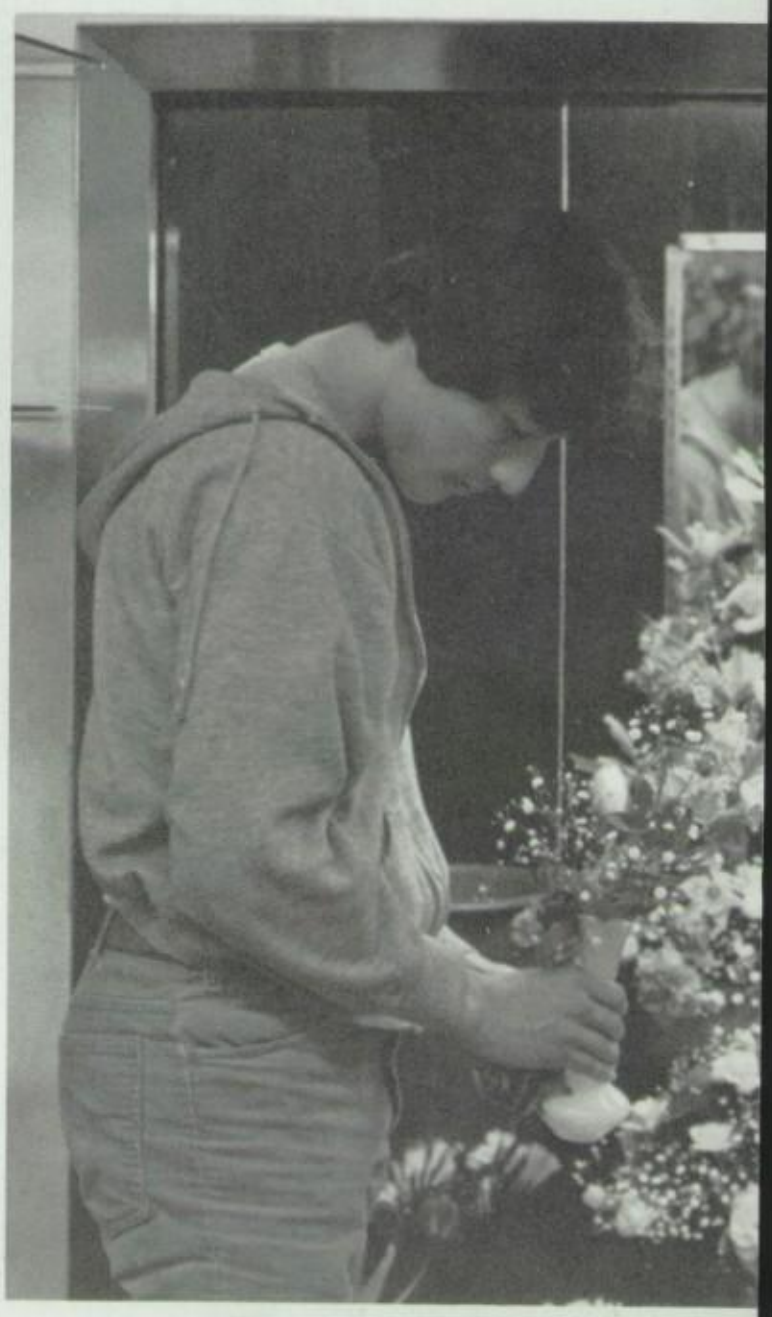
"Look at these shoes
There's a fat chance
That I'll even walk
Much less dance!"

"Where are the tickets?
I'm gonna be late
I'll never get there
At this rate!"

"Mom! That's enough
I can't smile anymore
Oh, thank God
He's at the door!"

Jeanine Bogaard imagines how stunning she could be if she could only find the right dress at Glenn's.

Tina Grubbs tries on yet another pair of shoes, but this time making certain the heel is a reasonable height.



Manny Rosas puts back the vase, deciding a wrist corsage would be more convenient.

PROM NIGHT

A Night Of Magic

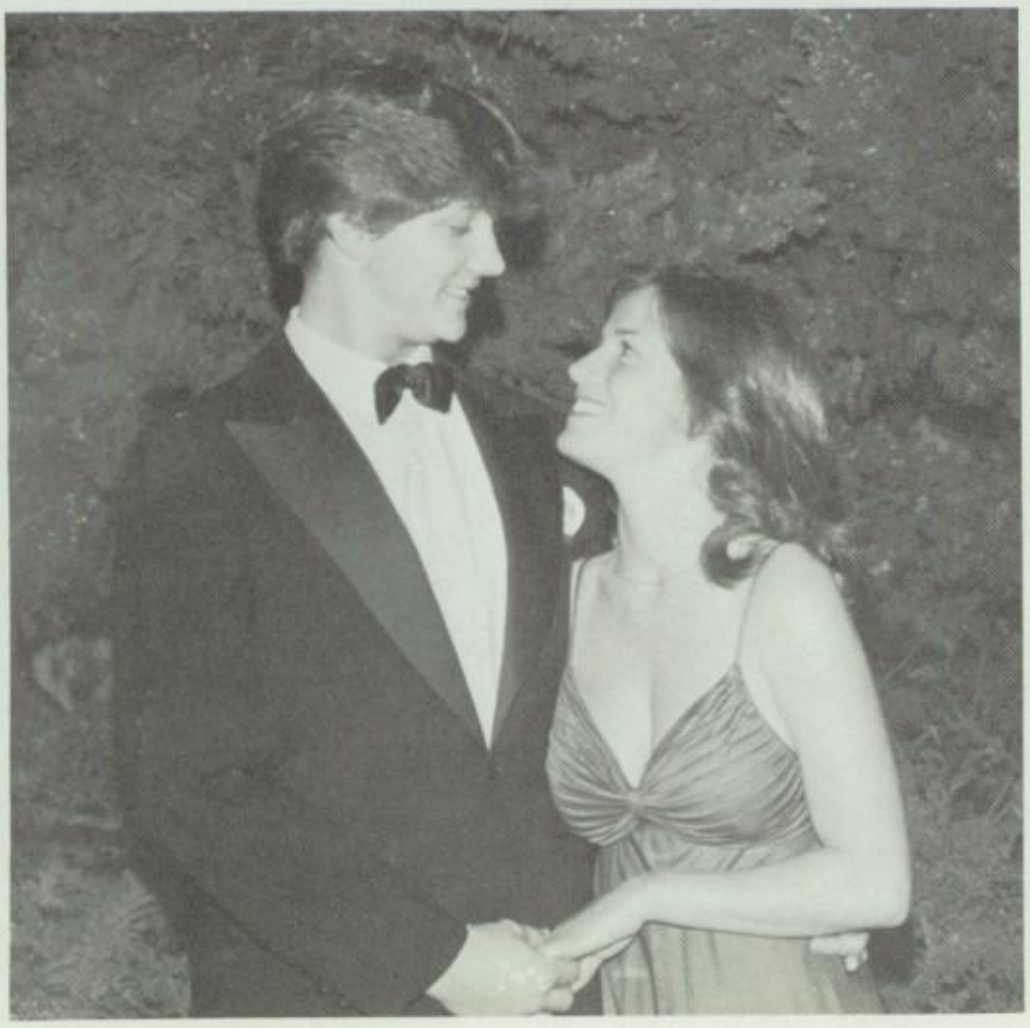
On June 5th, at 8:00 in the Ambassador Hotel, four years of planning, preparation, and hard work culminated in the long-awaited "Senior Prom". This night was one of magic; high school kids became sophisticated men and women. It was off with the blue jeans and on with the tuxes and gowns. Hair was elegantly arranged and bow ties in place.

These young ladies and gentlemen dined and danced in grandeur, continuing the charade into the wee hours of the morning. They celebrated with champagne, forgetting their cares for the night. It was an exciting evening which all-too-quickly came to an end, but only in reality. In their minds, the memories would linger on for a long, long time.



Anticipating the Prom, Tom Wood and Renee Pickering lovingly eye each other.

Each End Leads To A Beginning

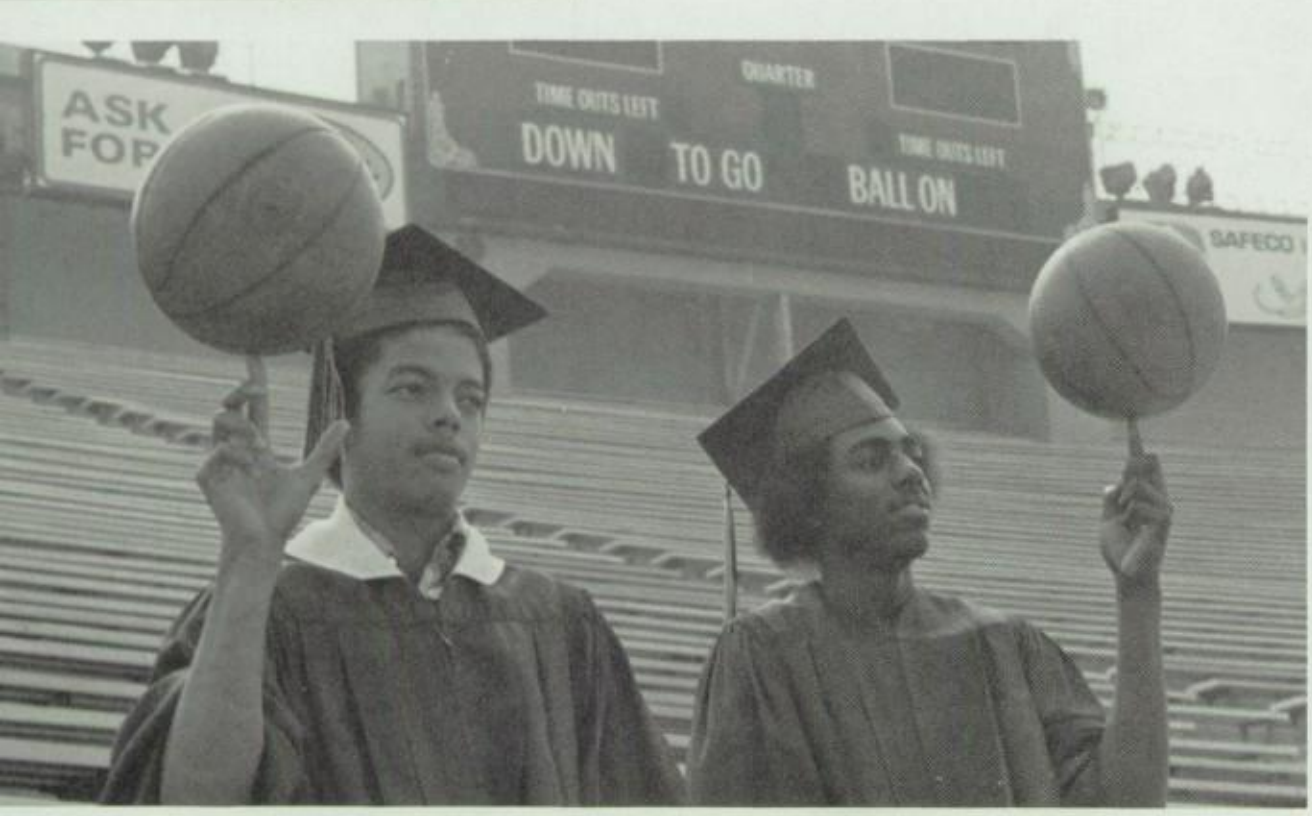
Four years of our life is over. For some of us it was a struggle, a fight against the authority we thought as overbearing and unfair. Most of us shared that feeling at one time or another, but that was in moments of uncertainty and misguidance. In the end, most of us realized the value of the pressure to achieve, the push to excel, the importance of the diploma.

We acknowledge the value of succeeding in high school, working hard, and dedicating ourselves to graduating with ceremony in the Rose Bowl.

Blair High School is not only a place of learning, but a place of living. It's where we met our friends, our loves, our inspirations. They became a part of us and we became a part of them. They touched our lives as we touched theirs, making it all the more difficult to leave. With mixed emotions of joy and sorrow, we ascended the platform to receive our diplomas, feeling relieved to have made it this far, and sad because there were so many "goodbye's".

As new Blair Alumni, we look to the future with anticipation and fear. But we look back at the preceeding years with intense satisfaction. Our years at Blair, the struggles, the pain, the happiness, will always be remembered in the most favorable, and gratuitous light. We will realize the benefits of those who cared enough to push us and help us through these important years. Our life at Blair has come to an end, but it leads to the birth of one that holds unlimitied possibilities and endless rewards.



Todd Benn and Shawn Holiday give their basketballs a last whirl.

Students Seek Foreign Style

This year's American Field Service Club (AFS), has proven itself as productive as ever. Enrollment has remained high, bringing together students of all grades and races.

Club meetings have taken a unique turn. Held in the evening, they feature a foreign country visited by a member. Food, customs, and slides are shared as well as information and good times.

This year the club hosted two students, Lazaro Campos from Barcelona, Spain, and Sabine Krings from Vienna, Austria. Blair students are also given the opportunity to travel with AFS. Kares Thorne spent last summer in Tunisia, a Moslem country in North Africa. Sara Dickerson, a 1980 Blair graduate, is currently spending the year in Sweden and having a fabulous time. Joyce Dickerson and Etienne Harrington are now getting ready to spend an exciting summer abroad.

ARTS & CRAFTS CLUB

Artists Create New Club

As a newly formed club at Blair, the Arts and Crafts Club has done well. Led by Ms. Gayle Morris and Mrs. Mary Remer, the students designed a logo and silk-screened T-shirts. They also created a variety of plastic projects such as key rings, necklaces and different kinds of games that were sold at the spring carnival. The lunch-time meetings were used to give the students the opportunity to participate in group club activities as well as to increase personal work time on individual projects. Added handiwork and finishing touches could be done in this extra half hour per week.

The students' extracurricular participation in arts and crafts brought them added benefits. The club, along with other art students in the district, enjoyed a trip to the Norton Simon Museum, as well as learned new skills and improved upon old ones.

Black Student Union Symbolically Starts

The day of Martin Luther King's birthday brought much controversy to Blair this year when a group of fifty or more students walked out. They felt that Martin Luther King's birthday should be a national holiday, as are Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays. Representatives from the walk out spoke to Mr. Charles Parcell and Mor Norman Morrow about their views, suggesting a school holiday in order to serve remembrance for all his great work. They also gave a moving presentation to the A.S.B. class in order to inform the school leaders about their views. These events and the dedication of many black students led to the rebirth of the Black Student Union at Blair after an absence of almost a year.

The club participated actively in the school once they got going. Members presented a "Black Culture Day" during Brotherhood Week which featured several speakers and an African dance troop. Other activities were a continuous display in the hall showcase of new and old information on cultural happenings, an international pot luck for all clubs to attend, and a notable stand at the carnival. Next year the club will hopefully get an earlier start and thus benefit our school even more.

Advisor Mr. Bruce Wallace draws up plans for Brotherhood Week as Renee Tate, Darrel Ramsey, and Letitia Lewis supervise.

New Group Bands Together For More Excitement

As one of the newest organizations at Blair, the Blair Activity Club managed to survive their first year. The main purpose of the club was to create activities for those many students who found themselves bored at lunch. Although funds were nonexistent, many events were still scheduled. The group enjoyed a trip to "Beatle Mania" in the fall, an excursion to Disneyland, and organzied cheering sections at the Football and basketball games.

Many activities were suggested, but were not feasible due to the lack of funds and schedule conflicts. Club membership remained small since there was a lack of student interest. Optimistically, the members feel that enrollment will grow in the future as the club gains prominence and prestige. The work of advisors Mr. Richard Barnett and Mr. Rodney Miyagawa was greatly appreciated. With out their efforts the club would not have begun at all! The members believe that in future years the Blair Activity Club will become an integral part of the school.

CARTOONING CLUB

Pen And Ink Bring Characters To Life

Have you ever noted the number of prominent cartoonists at Blair? The artists of tomorrow could very well be students from our school, and if so, they most likely will come from the Cartooning Club. These ambitious students gathered together during their lunch times to perfect their skills in this field. Mr. Jerry Garden, a professional cartoonist, enjoyed aiding the students with their work, and the young artists always appreciated his help.

The students were rewarded for their time and effort with the publication of some of the better cartoons in various periodicals. Not only did the "North Star" serve as a showcase for their work, but the "Altadena/Pasadena Chronicle", primarily, used political and nonpolitical cartoons created by Blair students. Throughout the year prominent work was displayed in the A campus showcase and thus was available for all students to admire.

Players Learn Strategic Moves

Chess is a wholesome recreational activity which holds no social or ethnic barriers. The game is one which may be enjoyed by all throughout life and may be found in every land through which one may travel. It is on the basis of this philosophy that the Chess Club exists at Blair.

The Chess Club has provided a unique experience for many students interested in this exciting game. Team members entered into another prosperous season of friendly combat last fall, which resulted in good times and greater skills for all.

Room A110 was the sight for constant strategies, tactics, sacrifices, oohs, aahs, and grunts. The club met three days a week to receive coaching and instruction in order to better the member's understanding of the game. Players were ranked on a ladder according to the results of an inter-team tournament, and then they challenged each other for higher positions.

The top five players represented Blair in the Foothill Chess League, which consisted of seven schools. Marco De Leon, William Lara, Symour Singer, Megumi Takarabe, and Eleazar Vita were the representatives from the Blair team this year. The team's overall success wasn't overwhelming, however, which could be due to the fact that only three members were returning players. The club looks forward to a very successful 1981-82 season.

CSF

Scholars Shine On

Hula dancing, calligraphy, cake decorating, and flower arrangements were all on the agenda for CSF members. Utilization of these hidden talents were part of the club's Talent Sharing Program which began this year. Club members offered their unique skills to eager scholars who wished to broaden their knowledge.

Club members also worked to help out fellow students by holding tutoring sessions during lunch. Although not very well attended, those students that came for help received much more than they asked for.

As the club name suggests, (California Scholarship Foundation), scholarships were available. Kares Thorne and Bill Thompson were nominated for the Seymour Award, a statewide competition resulting in great financial reward. Scholarships of varying amounts were also given out in June to prominent Seniors in the club.

Asian Students Bring New Culture To Blair

Asian students at Blair once again joined together to form the East-West Club. Having a large portion of non-English speaking students, the club worked mainly to improve the use of the language and to introduce new-comers to western culture.

The large size of the club brought about some problems in organizing projects and activities. This was overcome, though, and resulted in picnics, barbeques, an ice skating trip, hiking excursions, a senior banquet at the end of the year, and the election and coronation of the Asian Queen.

These activities didn't come for free, however, so the East-West Club had their share of fund raising projects. A substantial amount of money was brought in from food sales at the carnival, a car wash, plus a fortune and almond cookie sale.

FISHING CLUB

Fishers Unite To Hook The Big One

The 1980-81 Blair Fishing Club had a very good season. They went on many fishing trips and were successful with their catches! In the club's weekly meetings, members planned a variety of trips and activities. During the first semester, the club had a candy sale co-sponsored with LASA. The profits provided money for needed fishing equipment.

The main purpose of the Fishing Club was enjoyment. Students that had an interest in fishing were given the opportunity to attend the recreational outings. They also learned the finer points of fishing and enjoyed the company of others in the club. The club consisted of inexperienced students that desired to learn the fine art of fishing, and the more experienced students that were there to have fun and experience the thrill of carping.

Frisbee: The Ultimate Game

The Frisbee Club had an eventful season this year. The club had several games with other schools in which they learned to work better as a team. One of the principal games played the first semester was against San Marino at the half time of the Blair-San Marino football game. The contest was close and though Blair fought valiantly, they were defeated in the last few minutes of the contest. The main goal for the year was to successfully achieve recognition in the World High School Frisbee Championships. In this competition, high school teams from all over California competed in "ultimate frisbee". The team practiced for this and other competitions during their designated school time period of the Blair football field. The more dedicated members continued their practice sessions after school hours at Lacy Park. With hard work and devotion the Frisbee Club made it through their second year and is looking forward to a larger and even stronger membership next school year. Andrew Dyer, club president, predicted greater interest in this sport in coming years.

INTERACT CLUB

Service Club Shows Devotion To Society

Blair's renowned Interact Club had an active year. This year started out with the annual funding of the Nicaraguan foster child. The club has been sponsoring this foster child for the past two years.

One of the more successful projects was the sale of Rose Bowl programs. Interact made a sizeable profit which was used to sponsor members of Interact in a Run-for-Rehabilitation.

The club President, Pat McGinley, and Vice President Jasa Cocke, were voted into the honorable positions of District Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively, at a District Rotary Convention. The positions are held for a year and then are voted upon again at the next convention. This was the first time anyone from Blair has been elected to a District office. At the convention, the club also received the "Best Chapter Award" for 1979-1980.

KEY CLUB

Key Club Unlocks New Opportunities

This was the first year for this brand new club at Blair. It was formed as an elite boy's club devoted to community service in conjunction with the Pasadena Kiwanis Club. The club's objectives were to organize outings and help in community projects. The goal of helping in four projects every year fell short this year, mainly due to a lack of funds, although fund raisers did help out to some extent.

The first community service project with which the club became involved was their work at Camp Norris, located at Big Bear. This was for the benefit of the Boys Club of Pasadena. Together with Muir's Kiwanis Club, the Key Club helped connect gas lines to six cabins at the camp. With a small trenching machine and a lot of hard work, the gas lines were installed in one weekend. This will be an annual project for the Key Club.

LASA

Unidad Y Exito

De nuevo, LASA ha mostrado ser uno de los clubes mas activos y dominantes en el licio este pasado ano. Las actividades para ganar dinero fueron provechosas y bien organizadas; el club gano con ellas suficiente dinero para todos los proyectos que tuvieron lugar en los ultimos dos semestres.

Cada mes los socios del club estuvieron envueltos en una nueva actividad. En octubre se hizo la venta de chupetes con la que recaudaron $500. La Rifa de un pavo, en noviembre, fue tambien un exito: con ganar dinero se llevo a cabo la venta de chocolate an primavera.

El baile anual de la cena de Navidad, organizado por LASA, fue un acontecimiento popular entre los miembros del club. Se celebro en la cafeteria de la escuela el 19 de diciembre, y puso en contacto a un gran numero de personas con espirito navideno. LASA tambien organizo el Baile de San Valentin (Valentine's Dance). Los estudiantes latinos de Blair aprovecharon la oportunidad para hacer de este baile uno de los mejores de toda la temporada.

El proyecto mas grande del club este ano fue el del Baile de la Cena de Graduacion que tuvo lugar en junio. Todos los estudiantes latinoamericanos del club y sus respectivos padres fueron invitados a este acontecimiento. El momento de mayor interes de la jornada fue el reparto de placas conmemorativas entre todos los estudiantes que participataron.

MECHA

Un Ano Sumamente Divertido

Phil Fraustó y Laura Gamboa escuchan con atencion a los detalles del toy-a-thon.

Los estudiantes chicanos de Blair se pusieron de acuerdo para formar MECHA, Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan. Los socios del club trabjaron juntos para formar un solo grupo, el cual algunas veces se puso en contacto con el club MECHA de Muir High School en los partidos de futbol americano y en algunos almuerzos de campo. Ahora el club esta tratando de entablar amistad con el club MECHA de Pasadena High School. Esperemos que en un corto plazo todos los clubes MECHA de la zona se entiendan y trabajen con unidad.

Las diferentes actividades para ganar dinero reportaron grandes beneficios. Entre ellas se encuentran: la venta de manzanas acarameladas, el lavado de coches, y otras muchas.

MECHA ha trabajado tambien en proyectos para ayudar a los necesitados. El mas importante de todos ellos fue el toy-a-thon que se llevo a cabo el pasado diciembre. El objectivo de esta actividad es el proveer con regalos de Navidad a los ninos que estan necesitados.

Pero el club no solo se ocupo de los proyectos para ganar dinero o para ayudar a los no-privilegiados. El viaje anual a Magic Mountain resulto ser uno de los mas divertidos, y quizas el de mas exito de todo el ano.

Hikers Finish On Top

The Blair Mountaineering Club struggled to maintain its existence first semester. The planned reseeding project for Inspiration Point and Mount Lowe, sponsored by the Altadena Town Council, was cancelled twice due to fire hazzard danger in the local mountains. Several hikes that had been scheduled were cancelled due to rain.

There was, however, a rejuvenation of interest in club activities in the spring. Several hikes were taken to Henniger Flats and Mount Wilson. A weekend backpacking trip to Idlehour is planned for the summer and will be the highlight of the clubs' year.

Fund raising was not a necessity due to the fact that most members had their own equipment, or could borrow it from others. There was a raffle held in May, however, to help defray the cost of food and miscellaneous supplies for all the club's excursions.

New Club Lays On Spirit

Their yells and cheers could be heard from across the field or throughout the gym. Not a game went by when their presence wasn't heard and seen. Who were they? Why, the Pep Club, of course!

Although in its first year of existence, club members worked hard to make a name for themselves. The club was started by the Pep Commissioner, Felita Lewis, in an attempt to discourage those who cheered against our own Pep Squad. Composed mainly of underclassmen, this novel group set out to show what spirit Blair really had! Their support and enthusiasm was rewarded with many great seasons of athletics, including C.I.F. ranking Football, Water Polo, Soccer and Basketball teams.

Cheering was not the club's sole activity. Members showed their enthusiasm by wearing lots of green and gold on spirit days and by showing their Blair pride whenever possible. They also worked together with the A.S.B. to set up the rally for a C.I.F. Playoff basketball game in March, and in preparation for the May Carnival. All in all, club members worked hard to show their dedication and high level of pep.

A Physical Experience

Just when you thought this was going to be another dull year at Blair, along came the Physics Club. It was one of the most exciting clubs this side of the Mississippi. Club members took many phenomenal field trips and, of course, had their traditional car wash.

The Physics Club and class attended their third annual meeting at the Griffith Park Observatory, and also took field trips to the Scripps Institute in San Diego, and to the Los Angeles County Science Fair. Members thoroughly enjoyed their excursions to Caltech's Big Bear Lake Observatory. These ventures were in conjunction with the tours of J.P.L., the Caltech campuses, and the Los Angeles Cinerama Dome. By taking these field trips, students expanded their scientific knowledge.

Blair was thankful for the existence of this club because it was valuable to students interested in science. The educational experiences provided a firm link with the field of science.

SWIM CLUB

Swimmers Pool Their Resources

The Blair High Swim Club has been in existence for three years. The club consisted mainly of members from the Girls' and Boys' Swim teams. It was a most profitable year financially. Activities grossed over one thousand dollars; these funds were directed toward improving the swimming program at Blair.

The most successful fund raiser was the annual Swim Marathon. For the Marathon, each swimmer obtained at least fifty dollars worth of pledges and swam 200 lengths of the pool. The money that was raised from the Marathon was used to purchase new training equipment and uniforms for the future swimmers at Blair.

T'was Ski Trip

T'was the night before the ski trip
When all through Blair
Not a member was ready
Except Paul and his hair.

The ski stockings were all full
With goodies that were packed
We all got on the bus
Especially our friend, "Jack".

The bus ride was exhausting
Ten hours long
Everyone was asleep
Nothing could go wrong.

The sight of the slopes
Was too much for our hearts
Even the beginners
Roger, Eddie and Bogaard.

The night life was exciting
We tore up the dance floor
A few got into mischief
And broke down a linen door.

Steve brought his stereo
Victor his bar
Room 1209 was a "night club"
A "special" concert by far.

All in all
The ski trip was a blast
We hated to leave it all
Even till the last.

Don't Worry Mom, We're Eating Right

In an attempt to further interest in the Hispanic culture, Blair Spanish Club was once again formed. Headed by Dr. Jack Battaglia, the Spanish Club discovered the best aspects of Spanish and Mexican-American life by attending cultural, historical and gourmet events.

Established in 1973, the club has grown considerably in size and knowledge. Members of the club attended a farewell performance of the famous Jose Greco and Company of Spanish flamenco dancers. Other side trips included a visit to Olvera Street and a trip to Tijuana to watch a game of Jai Alai. To assimilate additional Spanish culture, the club toured various gourmet eating establishments such as Los Arcos, Manana, La Fiesta Grande, The Ranchero and Arriba.

WATER~SKI CLUB

Club Attracts Crowd

One of the newest additions to Blair's collection of clubs was the Water Ski Club. It was very active for a club just getting started. The members began by trying to raise money for their main goal - a trip to the Colorado River. A Valentine's Day raffle brought in the first of the necessary funds. Thus the vision of a successful trip started to take shape.

At the weekly meetings the club planned, in detail, the activities of this excursion, which included not only skiing but also boating and swimming.

The club found an abundance of enthusiasm and energy within the student body. Many had not realized the popularity of this water sport. Consequently, the club was forced to limit the number of members participating in the Colorado trip, because there was not enough equipment. The trip was opened on a first-come-first-served basis. Club members that attended the trip managed to have a wild and wet time together.

A club that really brightened the lives of the disabled children of Roosevelt School for the Handicapped was the Zonta Club. Z-Club is a club for girls who wish to help their community through activities in school. Blair's Z-Club members have enjoyed working on projects throughout the school year.

The club's main service project was the direct helping of the handicapped children at the school. Members attended Roosevelt School every Friday to further enhance the performance of the twelve children with whom they worked. The children enjoyed the games, art projects, and parties that Z-Club members provided.

Other activities included the mailing of I.D. bracelets, the collecting of money for the Red Cross, and hostessing at Baccalaureate and Awards Night.

INTER~CLUB COUNCIL

Presidents Rendevous

I.C.C. members show their enthusiasm at one of the better attended meetings.

Mrs. Dianne Moore and Lily Tseng enter into a deep discussion.

As a means of providing communication among clubs, the Inter-Club Council was formed this year. The reason for the council was an excellent one; all club presidents were to meet every other Wednesday in room A109 both to inform others of their activities and to be informed. These meetings were not exceptionally successful, however, because representation was generally poor. The meetings were valuable to those club presidents that were present, since they were informed about upcoming activities such as the May Carnival, the Gong Show, and Brotherhood Week.

Another of the council's main functions was to provide an outlet for the $2,500 allocated for lunch time activities through the School Improvement Plan. All the money was not spent, since few clubs took advantage of this fabulous opportunity.

Brotherhood Week was another focus of the I.C.C. The ethnic clubs worked together with the A.S.B. to create five days of international festivities. The International Days, honoring all races and cultures, brought awareness, understanding, and good times for all.

Even though suffering growing pains, the group was not discouraged. Meetings were held regularly throughout the entire year, even with only four or five representatives in attendance. It is hoped that the council will continue next year and show new growth and effectiveness.

NORTH STAR

Journalists Keep Tradition

Hard times, a lack of reporters, broken equipment, and exhausted supplies added together to produce a troubled "North Star" this year. Problems kept "popping up", yet were painstakingly overcome. Somehow, the staff managed to somewhat regularly publish the Blair newspaper.

A host of fresh faces, although few, began last September by searching for scoops, writing articles, typing like mad, and pasting up layouts. Their goal was to produce an excellent compilation of information every two weeks. Unfortunately, this proved to be quite difficult. Unforseen delays caused publication to occur only every three to four weeks.

Enrollment in newswriting was surprisingly small and a major problem. While the fall semester brought nearly twenty-five eager students, spring brought only about twelve. Among this number, a mere eight were returnees. Work had to be started from scratch and double pressures were applied. It was a tremendous shock to the class when it was announced in February that the "North Star" may be cancelled. Fortunately, staff dedication and perserverance saw us through another semester and thus upheld a Blair tradition.

Many thanks to all of you who spent so many extra hours in publishing our paper. A special thanks to you, too, Editor Bill Thomson and Advisor Mr. Joe McFadden for putting up with all the slack. We couldn't have done it without you!

Once Upon A Time . . .
A Yearbook Staff Went Crazy!

Tony Caronan cowers against the wall and ponders over what he's going to tell the angry Yearbook Staff advancing toward him, demanding the copy he doesn't have.

Once upon a time, in a small room on the second floor, there lived a group of people known as the Yearbook Staff. They lived solely on junk food, most of it take-out. They could be recognized by the bags under their eyes, bitten-down fingernails, pulled-out hair, and the look of determination on their faces.

Anyone trespassing into their territory would have to beware of flying croppers and giant rubber bands. If you escaped and continued into the room, you would discover that their recreational activity was restricted to chalkboard graffiti and their exercise consisted of taking turns to open the door.

The most overpowering feature of their little habitat was the commotion; but what could you expect when twenty people lived in a room where the decorating scheme was Classic American Liquid Paper. If you could distinguish one sound from another, you would discover that their vocabulary was limited to such phrases as: "Where the h are my pictures?!" "Jillllllllllll!" "All right, Robert what are you on today?" "I need a pica ruler!" "Oh, geez, her fuzzy red slippers again!" "A yellow bird, with a yellow bill... Oh, shut up, Jeff!" "Winchell's!!" "I've been working on this copy for sooo long" "Your momma to the eighth power!" "S, s, s!" "Which is bigger, Aimee's boobs or Jill's nose?" "I can't stand living in this garbage another weekend!!"

If you made it to the back room, you should find a tall, red creature diligently typing away. This was their beloved leader - the one who led them through dark hallways, called their mothers about their foul language, and fed them pure sugar.

Yet with all the traumas and tragedies, lost copy and ruined film, missed deadlines and dog-eaten pictures, hysteria and tears, they made it through the year and managed to produce a unique and entertaining yearbook. (It's unique all right, Jill!)

(Yah, I'm done, the section is finished. But wait, what do I do now? What is the meaning of life without yearbook? SLEEP, SANITY, AND GENERAL HOSPITAL!)

SPORTS

Blair's sports program has the unique advantage of giving almost any willing athelete the chance to participate. Those who do, learn to cope with defeat as well as appreciate victory. They not only built their strength, they also built their confidence and self-discipline by meeting the challenges of competition. This will prove valuable as we face the contentions which lie ahead.

Vikings Capture A Successful Season

Along with assistant coaches Karl Davis (offensive and defensive backfield coach), Ed Foss (defensive coordinator), Jim Moore (defensive-line coordinator), and Gerald Scholes (offensive-line coordinator), head coach Herb Robinson led the Blair High School Football team to a 7-3-1 win-lose-tie record.

The first game was played at Elsinore. The game itself was of great importance for it was a shut-out (21-0) for Blair. It was to be the beginning of a great and glorious season. In the next two games South Pasadena and La Canada were defeated by the mighty Vikings.

The La Canada game was the most meaningful victory for Blair. The Spartans, ranked No. 1,were matched by the Vikings to a scoreless first quarter. La Canada scored and took the lead 7-0 on a second quarter play. With 3:17 left at the half, All-C.I.F. Tailback Fred Crutcher caught a swing pass from quarterback Ed Blount and raced 52 yards for a touchdown. The score was tied at half time. During a second half play the Spartans settled for a field goal and stepped ahead. Later that evening, La Canada's quarterback Rob Hause fumbled and Gary LaGuard of the Vikings recovered. Blair used this opportunity to score, with 34 seconds left, by sending wide receiver Andy McIntyre to the end zone where Ed Blount connected with a touchdown pass. Carlos Leos cleared the uprights and gave Blair a four point lead. In the next series, Spartan quarterback Rob Hause fumbled again and Gary LaGuard came up with the football, thus ending La Canada's hope for a comeback.

The following weekend, the Vikings hosted the Bulldogs at the Rose Bowl. In the first series of plays in the game, Pasadena's Greg McClaine intercepted a wobbly pass and ran all the way for a score. Blair came back with a two yard run by Fred Crutcher. Carlos Leos kicked the extra point to tie the game. The long grueling game was finally decided. Neither team was victorious. The clock ticked away its final seconds and awarded Blair and Pasadena a 7-7 tie game. With the tie game on the Vikings' mind, the team was fired up against the San Marino Titans. The team played well both offensively and defensively. This provided Blair with two touchdowns and did not let the Titans get on the scoreboard. The Vikings were undefeated in pre-league games with four victories and a tie.

The league opener was played at Burroughs against Burbank. The Vikings conquered Burbank by a 29-27 decision. Blair traveled to Glendale the week after and suffered its first defeat. The Dynamiters, with successful passing strategy, capitalized on the Vikings' disconcerted defense.

Helping To Recapture Blair's Spirit!

The ensuing game was the highlight for All-C.I.F. Tailback Fred Crutcher. The Vikings outscored Hoover 45-14. This game was the most decisive victory of the season. The minute the game started, Blair was in command throughout the game. Fred Crutcher gained 375 yards against the Hoover defense. This game helped to provide Fred with his All-C.I.F. record. He was later to be named the leading rusher and scorer in C.I.F. with a total of 1,853 yards and 27 touchdowns throughout the season.

The game against Burroughs was another heartbreak, for the Vikings fell short of winning by 26-27. The Homecoming game followed the Burrough's game. Again Blair, motivated by the previous loss, went on to play a very controlled game. The Vikings handed Monrovia a bitter taste of defeat with non-starters on the field. After this victory, the Vikings' record in the league was 3-2 with an overall record of 7-2-1.

The last game of the season ended at San Luis Obispo. The Vikings took a long, five-hour bus ride and played First-Round C.I.F. Playoffs. At the end of the half, Blair was down 6-7. By the fourth quarter, the Vikings had a 20-7 lead. San Luis Obispo made a remarkable comeback and finally pushed ahead 21-20. With a little more than a minute left on the clock, Blair tried, successfully, to move closer to the goal. With about 29 seconds left the Vikings had a first and goal situation at the 5-yard line. After three unsuccessful passes and with four seconds left, Coach Robinson sent kicker Carlos Leos into the game. This was indeed a very exciting moment and both sides were on their feet waiting for the outcome. The distance was no problem but the angle was awkward. Center Angelo Cesari snapped the ball back to the 12-yard line where Carlos Leos tried the field goal kick. To everyone's dismay, the ball was wide. San Luis Obispo prevailed and eliminated Blair from continuing in the C.I.F. Playoffs. However, the Vikings accepted the loss with dignity. San Luis Obispo went on to defeat Burroughs and La Canada by two points each. The Tigers' triumphant victory against Lompoc (7-0) granted them the title of "C.I.F. Southern Section Champions". The Viking team was the only one that truly challenged San Luis Obispo.

Blair was fortunate to have not only an All-C.I.F. player but also eleven All-League players. The league's first team included All-C.I.F. Tailback Fred Crutcher and guard Hector Gomez. The first team defense named defensive end Tony Newton and tackle Kenny Stephens. The second team offense recognized runningback Ronny Robinson, guard Peter Provence, and tackle Steve Ornelas. Linesmen Gary La-Guard and Feranado Potts with linebacker Philip Austin and defensive back Vincent Wilson were selected as second team defense.

Recogntion trophies were awarded to: Fred Crutcher-Most Valuable Player; Hector Gomez-Most Valuable Offense; Tony Newton-Most Valuable Defense; Donnie Reddix-Most Improved Player; Ronnie Reddix-Most Inspirational Player; and Ronny Robinson-Ironman. In addition, Peter Provence received the Pasadena Quarterbacks Club Award.

Frosh-Soph Thrives Despite Inexperience

The Frosh-Soph Football team, under Coach Halstead, had a hard-fought season. Over half of the team members were brand new players. Fortunately, Blair had a determined team. This was evident during games where players gave all their effort.

Unfortunately for the Vikings, returning players Robert Caskey and Andrew Provence did not play the entire season. Tailback Robert Casky suffered a broken leg injury when the team played against San Marino. Right end Andrew Provence was injured early in the Glendale game. These fine players, due to their experience, were the Vikings' big scoring threats. However, the Frosh-Soph team, having a great will to win, performed to their utmost ability as they finished the season.

Awards were presented to: Dorsey Smith-Most Valuable Player; Robert Caskey-Most Outstanding Back; Ellis Gholar-Most Outstanding Lineman; Andrew Provence-Most Outstanding Team Leader; and David Aebersold-Ironman.

The Junior Varsity Football team was led by Coach Ballard. The team displayed a wide range of ability levels. It included everyone from a first-time Freshman to a returning Varsity player. Team members played their best and thoroughly challenged their opponents.

The Most Outstanding Players on the team were: quarterback Chris Wood; running backs Byron Hill, Carl Mitchell and Del Rey Williams; tight end Chris Clark; and defensive secondary Derrick Seymour.

Runners Plagued By Lack Of Personnel

Mr. Malloy coached the Cross Country team through a long struggle. The Vikings had a great deal of competition this year. Blair's Cross Country team defeated Schurr, California, and Muir to complete their pre-league with a 3-1 record.

In the league meets, Blair's lack of personnel provided an advantage for the opponents. The Girls' Cross Country team forfeited the league because the Vikings did not have enough runners for a team to compete.

The player awards were presented to team members at their banquet. Darrel McNair was awarded the Most Valuable Runner Award for Varsity and Walter Weiss was recognized as the Most Improved Runner. Varsity runner Steve Floyd was elected by the team as the Most Inspirational Runner. The Sophomore awards went to Kyle Kuhlmeyer as the Most Valuable Runner with Gene Edwards receiving the award for the Most Improved Runner. Steve Shin was voted as the Sophomores' Most Inspirational Runner. Sheri Castro was chosen by the Girls' Cross Country team as the Best-All-Around Runner.

Mr. Molloy looks forward to next year's team for he believes that the team, having experience, will not only do well but also play a major role in the world of competition.

$H_2O$ Polo Swims Into Playoffs With Success

Jim Spangler guided the Varsity Water Polo team to first time victories twice this year. Blair defeated Glendale for the first time since the start of the program. In this game Senior Patrick McGinley scored six out of nine goals against the Nitros. This year was also the first time the Vikings went to Second-Round C.I.F.

The Vikings' pre-season record was 6-3. They defeated Bell Gardens, South Pasadena, California, and Pasadena. Blair lost to San Marino and Arcadia. During preseason play the Vikings participated in the Olympian Water Polo Tournament and took second place. They beat California and Bassett but lost to Workman.

Blair completed league play with a 4-1 mark, defeating Burroughs, Burbank, Glendale, and Monrovia. The last league match was against Hoover where the Vikings lost at home.

The thriller of the year was the game against Burbank. With the score tied and one second of play left, Freshman Kevin Turk of the Vikings passed to Senior David Cronk who tapped the ball in and won the game.

After completion of the Foothill League games, Blair traveled to Fontana and played First-Round C.I.F. Playoffs. The Vikings were ahead at the half. Fontana started their comeback but not enough to win, so Blair won by a 12-8 decision. The Vikings went to La Canada the following week and lost Second-Round C.I.F. to Brea with a score of 7-16.

Blair was proud to have four All-League players. The first team included Seniors David Cronk and Pat McGinley. Jonathan Wade was the only Sophomore to become an All-Leaguer, being among the few selected for the second team. Young Soo Cho received Honorable Mention.

The Junior Varsity had a relatively young team and has the potential of strength in the future. With team spirit and enthusiasm, they played well throughout the season and gained a lot of experience.

Varsity awards went to Pat McGinley who was named the Most Valuable Player with Young Soo Cho as the Most Improved Player. David Cronk received the Most Inspirational Award. The Junior Varsity winners for these award categories were, respectively, Randy DiMacali, Brad Pickering and Ana Mary Gallud.

Teamwork: The Key To Soccer's Success

Coach Ty Gaffney led the Varsity Soccer team through a successful season. The Vikings finished their pre-season with a 2-3-2 win-lose-tie record. Their opening game was against California High where the Vikings were victorious. They lost the next two games to Baldwin Park and Arcadia. The San Marino Titans came to Blair the following week. The long grueling game ended with a tie. The Vikings blew away its cross-town rival in the ensuing game: Blair beat Muir 4-1 which really gave the Vikings the sweet taste of victory. To close the pre-season, Blair lost to a strong Pasadena team and tied Cathedral.

The Vikings were undefeated during First-Round League with a 3-0-1 mark. They were undefeated against Burroughs and overwhelmed Burbank 8-3. They tied Glendale and defeated Monrovia, to finish their First-Round League.

The team's success was due to Blair's teamwork. Everyone shared in the victory and agony that resulted. There were players who were recognized as top-ranked. Omid Nabipoor was the team's high scorer. Most consistent players were Walter Weiss and Alfredo Medina. Bill Thomson was named the most improved player. Juniors Mike Brown, Pete Reich and Miguel Ocadiz, and Freshman Servando Carillo were considered by Coach Gaffney as his most promising players.

The Junior Varsity was just as strong as their Varsity counterpart. The team consisted of a good offense and defense combined. Players like Sophomores Mike Miele, Philip Poon, Kyle Kuhlmeyer, Santiago Cortez, and Steve Shin, with Freshmen Felipe Duarte and Ceasar Mendosa, have the potential to play Varsity next year.

Our Pride And Joy

Coach Jim Hennacy led the Blair High School Boys' Basketball team to an impressive and exciting season. The team, composed of all Seniors except for one Junior, played with an unceasing quest for victory. The Vikings practiced and performed with perfection in all of their games. This was evident with Blair's outstanding record. The Viking's determination to drive and their will to win provided Blair a place in C.I.F.

The season's opener was played at San Marino where the mighty Vikings were triumphant. Blair placed second in the Arroyo Tournament by defeating Pacific, Covina, and Arroyo. However, the Vikings fell short to Los Altos in the finals. Blair won consolation in the Troy Tournament by losing to Jefferson and conquering El Dorado and El Modena. The Vikings placed second again in the Covina Tournament. They lost to Palos Verdes and won against San Gabriel, Gahr, Morningside and Los Amigos. The follwoing game was played in the Blair gym against its cross-town rival, Muir High Scool. This long and tiring game was disappointing. Blair fell short of winning, 53-56. To finish off their pre-season, the Vikings traveled to Rowland Heights and defeated the Rowland Raiders.

The league opener was against Hoover; Blair was victorious. The following game against Burroughs was one of the most controversial games for the team. The questionable officiating handed Blair its first defeat in league. The Vikings won against Burbank in the ensuing game. Next, Blair lost to Glendale in overtime. Blair went on to win four straight games beating Monrovia, Hoover, Burroughs, and Burbank. The Burroughs game was of significance, for the Vikings demoralized the Indians by twenty-five points. There was no doubt that Blair was the better team. Blair suffered a heartbreaker, however, when it lost to Glendale during the last second of the game by one point. The Vikings completed their league games by beating the Monrovia Wildcats, thus providing Blair with a second place in the league and an overall record of 18-7 when they entered C.I.F. Playoffs.

The first round C.I.F. Playoff was at Garey High School in Pomona. Blair was the decisive winner with a margin of thirty-three points. The Vikings strung up Righetti High School of Santa Maria during the second round C.I.F. Playoff game in the Muir gym. Blair was merciless against La Serna of Whittier in the quarter-finals, also played at Muir High School. This was evident when the Vikings provided Shawn Holiday with the opportunity to complete his career-high of forty-one points. Shawn Holiday received the title "Athlete of the Week". The La Serna game was a historic moment for Blair. This was the first time that Blair had won the quarter-finals thus placing them in the semi-finals. All of the hard work and determination in playing and winning finally paid off. The Vikings traveled to the Los Angeles Sports Arena to play Nogales in the semi-finals. Nogales, then 29-0, was the most formidable opponent Blair had encountered. The game was tied with 24 seconds left to play when Blair inbounded the ball. The Vikings called their final time-out with the clock reading nine seconds. Blair's main strategy was to draw a foul, which they did successfully. Shawn Holiday calmly sank two points; this placed Blair ahead with four seconds appearing on the clock. Nogales fired a final desperate shot - Blair was the winner - 68-66!

Blair met its league rival, Glendale, in the finals. The Vikings had lost to the Nitros twice before in league play. The Los Angeles Sports Arena was again the place that would decide the "Best". John Edgar played for a limited time due to a knee injury suffered during warm-ups. The team played like champions to the last second. Blair was trailing by three when Larus Parker sank a basket at the buzzer, thus closing the margin to one. Glendale won the title, but it was a contest of champions. Jim Hennacy's 1980-81 Varsity Basketball team was considered by the Blair student body as winners!

J.V.'s Suffer Due To Lack Of Experience

The Junior Varsity Basketball team coached by Oscar Palmer, finished third in the Pomona Tournament. The team's power-producers originated from several talented forwards that included Darrin Robinson, Lonnie Allen, Raymond Carter, and Kenneth Centy. The team's inside plays were strengthened by the highly-rebounding center, Donald Nelson.

The Blair-Muir battle was an exciting but heart-breaking game. The Vikings were ahead from the first minute of the game. But by late in the fourth quarter, the team let down mentally.

The team foresees a promising future with the return of the experienced and hard-working players. Coach Palmer's devotion has contributed much to the team's ability this season.

The Frosh-Soph team under the guidance of Coach Tim Guy had a proud and successful season. The team lost its first game to P.H.S. in overtime despite the remarkable efforts of the team. The Vikings finished the pre-season with a 10-4 record. The team defeated Muir, its cross-town rival, by a significant one point. Forward Glen Jackson, center Darrin Underwood and guard Dorsey Smith were the team's most outstanding players. Coach Tim Guy believes that the team will have a more promising season next year.

Team Supported By Veterans

Due to a shortage of participants and an absence of school support, this year's Varsity and Junior Varisty Swim teams began the semester slowly. Although nine new swimmers were added to the team, their inexperience posed problems. Yet, with the help of the nine returning team members (three of whom were Seniors), and Coach Pat McCummins, the new swimmers gained "know how", giving the entire team more confidence. The 6:15 to 7:30 morning workouts, the 1:30 to 3:30 afternoon practices, and 8:00 to 10:00 Saturday morning drills were long and tedious, yet their dedication carried them through it all.

Much of the team success depended upon its veteran swimmers. Excellent performances were made by Pat McGinley in backstroke and butterfly, Jan Sherry in individual medley and butterfly, Jo Wade in freestyle and butterfly, and Greg Wade in breaststroke. Showing much improvement and potential for the future were Randy Dimacali in breaststroke and William Kavanagh in freestyle. Also included on the J.V. team was Lazaro Campos, and AFS student from Spain..

All in all, the season was prosperous and the team looks forward to acquiring more members and reaching greater heights next year.

Team Strokes With Speed

The Blair High School Boy's Tennis team, led by Coach Lamb, had a successful season. The Vikings began their year with a smash! The season's opener was played at home against South Pasadena. Blair defeated South Pasadena which provided the Vikings with the confidence they needed. Blair overcame a strong Crescenta Valley team, thus emerging victorious. Marshall was demoralized by Blair the following week. The next step was Mountain View. Blair once again was vitalized in their quest to become the best by winning this match. The whole team performed to the utmost of their ability in order to make their dream of C.I.F. a reality.

There were several factors which contributed to this success. The new coach, Mr. Chuck Lamb, was a major asset. Knowing the game of tennis well, he was able to provide the team with helpful tips. Secondly, the entire Varsity squad returned, with the exception of one alumni. Heading the talented group were singles players Dan Goldreich, Megumi Takarabe, Robert Chang, and Tom Mills. They were backed up by strong double combinations of Tony and Edgar Caronan, and Bill Thomson and Chris Cofer, both of whom could be depended on to gain the needed points. All the Vikings combined to make a dedicated team; it was enthusiastic and determined. The players were also hard-working. This was evident through their daily practice. Last, but not least, they looked like a team. They had finally acquired uniforms after two years of mix and match.

The Junior Varsity team also had a good season. Composed of a majority of Freshmen, the J.V. has great potential. Mr. Lamb looks forward to this young group developing into strong players in the future.

The entire Tennis team could not fail to do well this year. With a full amount of heart, its members had the winning combination of style and speed.

Team Speeds

The 1981 Viking Track team displayed a good balance in the sprinting, field and long distance events. This added track to the lineup of firstrate teams that sprouted at Blair this year.

The sprinters, led by Senior James Knowles, were the strongest members of the team. Knowles held the C.I.F. record for the 330 low hurdles. Other strong sprinters were Fred Crutcher, who was ranked Number One in the high hurdles, plus Robert Macklin and Mark Russell. Blair's 440 relay squad boasted one of the fastest times in the Foothill League.

In field events the Vikings also met with great success this year. Two powerful giants, Ronny Robinson and Angelo Cesari, led the shot put event. Leading the team in the pole vault was Walter Weiss, who soared to awesome heights. High jumpers Sheldon Webster, Chris Clark, and Ben Smith had a successful year. Blair's best triple jumper was the versatile Gary LaGuard who was also the fastest runner in the grueling half mile. Other strong distance runners were Trinidad Alcaraz who ran the mile, and Paul Goddard, the two mile.

The Frosh-Soph team exhibited exciting potential and considerable talent. Following in the Varsity's footsteps, these "youngsters" flaunted a powerful sprint squad with consistent athletes in the long distance and field events. Exceptionally promising contributions to a powerful Varsity team in the coming years are Sophomores Steve Shin and Kyle Kuhlmeyer.

Old And New Team Members Combine Experience And Talent

With several returning Varsity players and outstanding newcomers from last year's Junior Varsity team, Coach Joe Ballard was able to lead the 1980-81 Blair Baseball team through a highly successful season. The team kept practicing with two things in mind; to win the league and reach the C.I.F. Playoffs.

The team had full control of the pitcher's mound with three-year Viking letterman Jeff Guy, two-year Varsity team member Chris Wood, and new addition Keith Houlemard. Rounding off the infield were catcher David Price, shortstop Jose Pena, first baseman Nick Petrov, second basemen Kevin Jones and Damon Wing, and third baseman Ed Blount.

Located in the outfield was a powerful trio; Vince Wilson, also a three-year Varsity letterman in left field, Peter Provence in right field, and Stephon Dias in center field. The Vikings also depended on steadfast players such as Collin Wiley, Ray Fisher, and Vance Lovest, who remained ready at a moment's notice to enter the game and give their all in a pressure situation.

The team started their success with a 2-1 pre-season record. The season's opener was against South Pasadena where the Vikings soundly defeated their opponents. The Vikings gained another victory against Mountain View the following week. In this game, Blair took the lead in the early innings an thereafter controlled the game. To complete the pre season, the Vikings lost a close one to a formidabl Crescenta Valley team.

The league season tested the strength of that important ingredient for a winning season-teamwor The players pulled together and with the utmost abilit and agility almost achieved a C.I.F. position. Althoug Coach Ballard will be losing some topnotch Senio players, he looks forward to another great seaso next year with some upcoming Junior Varsity player

J.V. Team Uses Available Skill

The 1981 Junior Varsity Baseball team entered the season optomistically thinking that this would be "their year". With a wide range of ability levels and skills, they were capable of beating any team.

Blair started with an undefeated pre-season, routing South Pasadena, Mountain View, and Loyola by big margins. Unfortunately, the Vikings lost their first league game to Hoover 6-4. However, it was a meaningful loss, since the Vikings showed that the game is never over until the last inning, as it pulled together from a 5-0 deficit to almost emerge victorious. After the first lost the team was able to put together a winning season.

The Vikings received their power from sluggers Will Freeman, Brett Nelson, and David Aebersold. The defense was secured by shortstop Jose Carlos and second baseman John Robinson. The outfield was anchored by Demetrius Bradley, Glenn Smith, and Jeff De Champlain. First year Coach Pat Flynn led the team.

The Frosh-Soph team, the only one in the district, stumbled over many hurdles before finally settling down. The team suffered from a lack of experience and organization. However, Coach Omar Plante took the young team under his wing and guided them through a season of learning and experience.

Andrew Provence shows good form before throwing another strike.

Girls Pitch For Victory

The Girls' Softball team played well this year, using teamwork to stomp out its opponents. Excellent pitching as well as a tough offense were the team's strong points.

Coach Karen Mejia considered the game against San Marino to be one of the team's best. She stated, "San Marino was a good team, but Blair played well and hung on to the very end." The final score was Blair 11, and San Marino 8.

Outstanding team members included: shortstop Andrea Wynn, catcher Sara Davis, outfielder Valerie Robinson, and pitcher Sara Fullerton. The team had five returning players and it was these players in addition to the excellent new recruits that came together to form a winning team.

Good sportsmanship and spirit were outstanding this season. Excellent coaching and encouragement from Coach Mehia in addition to leadership by team captain Margaret Hampton also helped to provide for a winning combination.

With a large number of players returning to Blair next year, there are high hopes for another exceptional season.

Dedicated Players Keep On Swinging

The Girls' Tennis team had several fresh faces this year. The new coaching staff included Mrs. Gail de Forest as head coach and Karen Mejia as assistant coach. Blair had many untried players. The team was relatively young compared to other teams with Freshmen players. Ann Kikuchi and Anne Esbenshade played Varsity positions.

The Vikings were led by Seniors Renee Pickering, Leely Wihartoguno-Oei, and Andrea Wynn; Jill Esbenshade and Amy Koo were the Juniors who played. All of the team members had a great will to win. This was evident throughout their long and tiring matches. The league schedule was rough. Blair's opponents capitalized on mistakes made by young members of the team; they turned out to be costly for the Vikings. However, the team finished their season with smiling faces and high spirits.

The awards went to Varsity players Jill Esbenshade, voted Most Valuable Player, and Ann Kikuchi, Most Improved Player. Shelly Knowles was awarded the Most Valuable Player award for Junior Varsity, and Tami Galindo received the Most Improved Player award.

Accepting defeat with pride, the team members learned the true meaning of "competition". Mrs. Gail de Forest is enthusiastic and well-prepared for the upcoming season. She believes that the team itself will not only play hard but also perform at a competitive level.

With agony in their faces, Anne Esbenshade and Leely Wihartoguna-Oei fail to show their sportsmanship when greeted by the painful grips of their opposition.

Volleyball "Spikes" To The End

The Varsity Volleyball team, under Coach McCummins, finished its season with a struggle. The team, composed of mostly Juniors, only had three returning players from last year. Therefore, they lacked the experience and communication a winning team needed.

The team practiced hard after school and on fun-filled Saturday mornings. All the games they lost were close ones. Since the other teams were more experienced than they, the Vikings lost on crucial and important points. However, the Vikings did not give up and played to the bitter end. The team itself had the same level of skill as the other teams, but without experience they gave their opponents an advantage. The most outstanding players on the team were Cindy Bicket, Carole Owen, and Jacque Bicket.

The most exciting game was the victory against Monrovia. In the final seconds of the game a Monrovia player had a sure point, but Carole Owen, in desperation, dove for the ball. As the ball crossed the net, the Monrovia players watched Carole in disbelief - Monrovia lost; Blair won!

The Junior Varsity, led by Coach Herb Cohen, also completed a hard-fought season. The team consisted primarily of Freshmen. The members did not have experience playing together. The team had great enthusiasm and played well throughout the season thus providing members with some of the experience they'll need in the future.

Cindy Bicket was awarded the Most Valuable Player award for Varsity with Vivian Vita receiving the Most Improved Player award. The Junior Varsity awards went to Denise Dusenberry as the Most Valuable Player and Grace Bautista as Most Improved Player.

Dance Team Swings With Ability

This year's Dance Production team, led by Mrs. Gabrielle de Forest, spent the many hours of hard work necessary to present an exceptional Christmas assembly. The entire group performed well, proving that all their effort was rewarding and worthwhile. By using their own choreography, team members were able to display their original style and create a diversity of dance techniques. The success of the performance was due not only to the variety but also to the skill of the performers. Tom Wood, Vanessa Brown, Martina Vogel, Tanya Coles, and Rhonda Rogers were highlights of the show. Blair students showed their appreciation for the excellent assembly by their loud applause and cheering.

Due to the fact that Mrs. de Forest took a leave of absence, the dance team did not stage any further productions. However, the team did continue to practice during fourth period gym until the end of first semester. Blair students and faculty are looking forward to more performances by this outstanding Dance Production team next year.

Team Dribbles Their Way Through Season

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team was led by Coach Pat McCummins. The team practiced hard and with eager enthusiasm after school. There were only four returning players from last year. Though lacking in size and experience, they managed to struggle through a tough season. The Vikings most outstanding players were Verba Loudd, Vivian Brik, Tracy Lawson, and Leoreatha Wells. Verba Loudd proved to be the team's biggest scoring threat.

The girls unfortunately lost most of their games this season. Not only was the team lacking enough shooters but lost a number of players due to eligibility standards. Blair's opponents capitalized on fast breaks which we weren't able to defend. However, our Vikings showed great pride by fighting to the last second.

The Junior Varsity team, headed by Coach Karen Mejia, played and performed much like the Varsity team. They lacked the experience that other teams had. However, this did not stop the Vikings' claim to be the best. Some of the more outstanding players were Tasha Garland and JoAnn Young.

This team was dropped from the League after three games due to conflict between players with another school.

Coaches Pat McCummins and Karen Mejia look forward to next year. They predict a promising season that will place the Viking teams on the top.

New Swimmers Gain Experience

This year's Girls' Swim team was enthusiastic and dedicated. Due to fresh faces, as well as a new assistant coach, the team built its fundamental strength in preparation for competition.

The Swim team began their morning and after school workouts in February. Swimming an average of 200 lengths, or 5,000 yards per day, provided a tough test for the fledgling swimmers.

Although the team did not win its beginning meets, they proved to be a necessary experience for future improvement. Leading the group were Susan Oyakawa and Ana Mary Gallud; the only returning swimmers. Other outstanding team members were Amy McConnell and Annie Hebgen.

There was also a great amount of team spirit and togetherness this year. The season was kicked off by the annual slumber party held at Tracy Oakes' home.

Due to the fact that most of the members will be returning next year, the team has high hopes for a bright future.

Runners Take Their Mark

The Girls' Track Team got off to a good start this season with five returning members. There were many new additions to the team as well. What was lost due to last year's graduating Seniors was regained by the new members.

There were many talented athletes on the team this year. Tina and Adrienne Grubbs were the leading high jumpers and Charlotte Butler ran the quarter mile. Celwyn Scott surprised everyone with her fantastic ability as a sprinter. Her coach said, "She's got one of the most explosive starts I've ever seen in a girl.

Spirit as well as ability was abundant this year. Team togetherness provided a supportive atmosphere for the maximum amount of improvement and the highest performance possible. Capable Freshmen together with a new coach made for a winning team that has strong possibilities for next year. Due to the absence of Coach de Forest, Mr. Walt Butler directed the team with the help of Jacque Bicket as manager.

Adrienne Grubbs gets off to a great start as the lead person on the 440 relay team.

ACADEMICS

Our school experience has always been built around academics. The various subjects that we have become familiar with, have not only enriched our lives but also given us higher prospects for the future. By progressing in academics we open many opportunities for ourselves. We will realize the worth of the knowledge we have attained as it becomes useful in our approaching endeavors.

Mr. Charles Parcell and Mr. Norman Morrow eat lunch casually while discussing school matters.

Principals, The Key To A Student's Future

Much of the success of our school, its fine student guidance, its intellectual stimulation, and helpful understanding come through the able assistance of Mr. Charles Parcell. He has been eager to help whenever possible and his friendly attitude of cooperation has been greatly appreciated by all the students of Blair High School.

The tasks of keeping the student body and faculty operating in an efficient manner were the responsibilities of the vice principals Mr. Norman Morrow and Mr. Kenneth Olson. Their diligent work and effort were clearly displayed in both student activities and curriculum.

Mr. Norman Morrow was responsible for all student related activities. He was often found providing solutions for other people's mistakes and problems. He also participated in many school clubs and organizations.

We depended on Mr. Olson for a well-structured curriculum, and that is just what he delivered. Classes varied from physics to frisbee; from calculus to pep squad. The diverse interests of the students were considered and covered.

The students of Blair High School will long remember the effort and work put forth by Mr. Morrow and Mr. Olson.

Counselors Advise For Better Futures

Blair has been very lucky this year to have an excellent group of well-qualified counselors. It may not seem so, but their task is a difficult one, and their responsibilities are many.

A counselor's job consists mainly of keeping about four hundred students in line with school life, or maybe just with life itself. Our counselors are responsible for the programming of all Blair students, a great deal of paperwork, and the many meetings which they have to attend. On top of that, the counselors are required to give guidance and advice to students about their personal welfare and their plans for their future.

Perhaps the most important characteristic for being a counselor, a characteristic shared by all of Blair's counselors, is that of caring about an individual. Our counselors advise each of us about what is best for us as individuals and they are aware of our personal tastes and needs. Our newest counselor, Mr. Charles Barr, also shares in caring for all his students.

DEANS and SECURITY

How Do You Spell Relief?

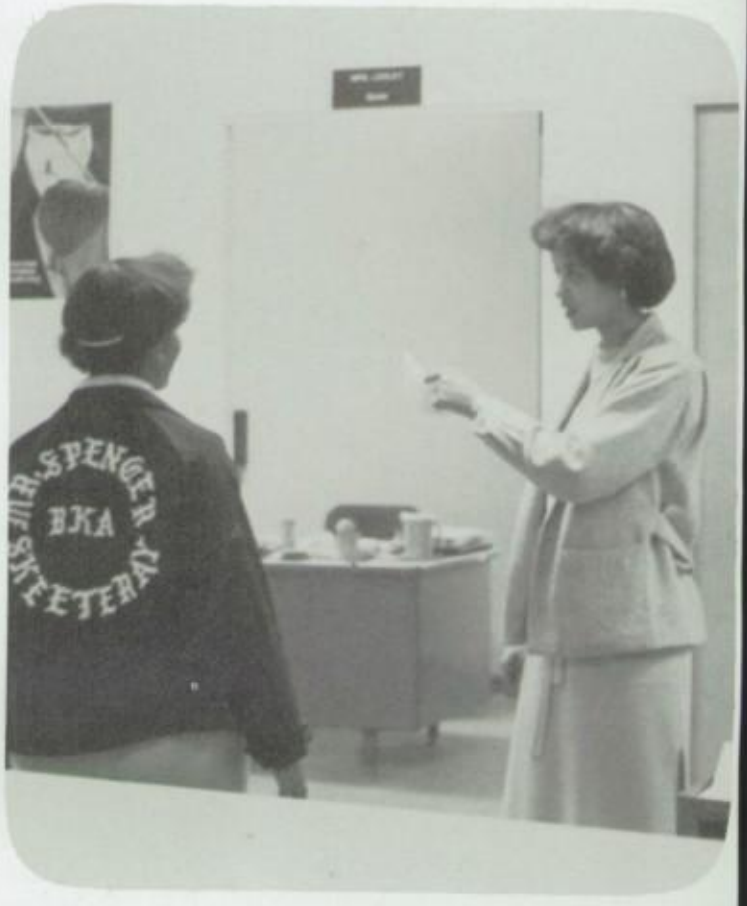
To the student with a personal problem or to the student who is causing a problem, a trip to the dean's office can mean different things.

A trip to the dean's office is a trip of fear or relief, depending on why you were sent there. It is in this office that they many diverse problems related to functioning in school are dealt with and resolved with a positive attitude and concern for the benefit of all.

The two people charged with this monumental task are Mrs. Kathy Lesley, Dean of Women, and Mr. Billie Coleman, Dean of Men. They have demonstrated their concern for the students by being available when needed and by their willingness to listen even when you don't have problems.

How do you spell relief? "The Deans!"



Mrs. Lesley looks and listens attentively to Rhonda Jones.

Security Proves To Be A Force On Campus

The security unit is an ever-present force around campus. These individuals give the students a feeling of protection and assurance. The members of the security staff could often be seen having conversations with students about the importance of achieving an education. Whether patrolling the campus or giving good advice to students, the security unit is a squad that will always be needed.

The Invisible Crew

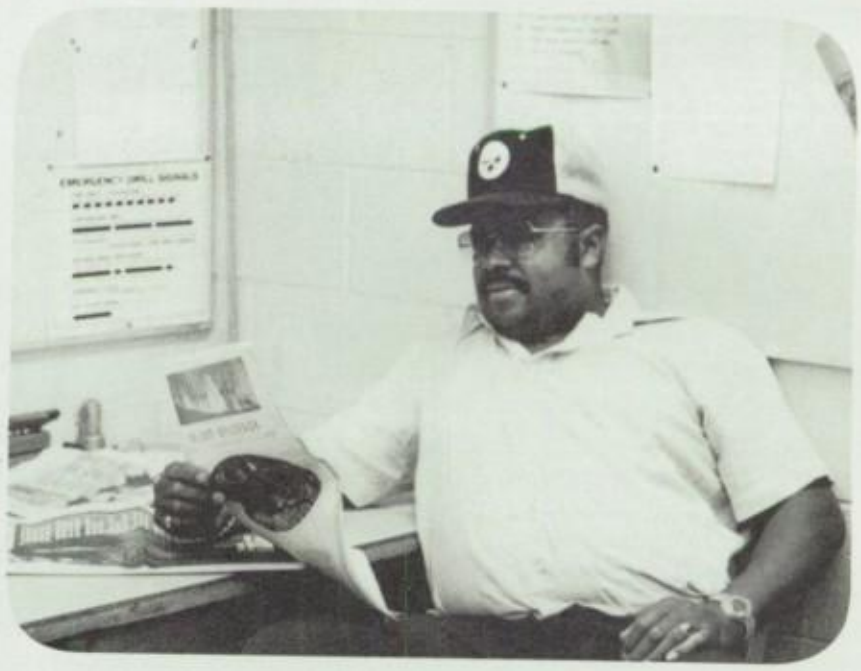
In addition to our administration, secretaries, faculty and cafeteria staff, there is an additional group that also helps to make Blair run in a smooth and efficient manner. Thanks to the endless efforts of the maintenance crew, Blair High School was a cleaner and better place to study and play.

Many of the little things that we either took for granted or failed to even notice were their handiwork. The custodians cleaned the classrooms, picked up litter and food (thrown in the wrong places!), and guarded against possible vandalism to our school. In addition, Mr. Martin and his staff could often be found setting up bleachers or various props for assemblies and other special programs.

The gardeners have the large responsibility to take care of the wide variety of plants, trees, and shrubbery which adorn our grounds. The results of their labor could be seen and enjoyed by all.

Our dedicated and hard working maintenance staff was not often recognized or well-known by the students. In fact, since most of their work was performed often before or after school hours, and usually behind the scenes, one might call them "The Invisible Crew". Although they had a lot of work and many responsibilities, they were always available when we needed them.



Cleaning a school for 1,500 students is not an easy task, but Mr. Jacob Katz shows he is the man to do it!

SECRETARIAL STAFF: Mrs. Sandra Asquith, Mrs. Wendy Bodenshot, Mrs. Molly Russel, Mrs. Joyce Shedd, Mrs. Dianne Moore, Mrs. Jennie Spencer, Miss Maria Palomo, Mrs. Ethel McLain, Mrs. Judy Salisbury, Mrs. Ann Walton, Mrs. Queenie Shore, Mrs. Jenny Williams.

SECRETARIES

Secretaries Are School's Backbone

Who takes care of all the paperwork? The bulletins? Recording attendance? Working the switchboard? Carrying activities through? Why, it's Blair's secretarial staff, of course! They are the ones who help Blair to run smoothly and efficiently. They make sure that all records are current, that notices and other paperwork get out on time and to the right places, that financial problems are sorted out and worked out, and that all bookkeeping is done in an orderly fashion.

There is always a lot of work to be done in Blair's offices, because the administration, faculty and students are busy, involved people. The secretaries complete their tasks well. Each has her own distinct duties; all are equally important in keeping our school together.

Mrs. Karen Lynn is our dedicated school nurse. She is always very nice an understanding with students and their illnesses.

Karinda Maxie, Lavon Williams, and Angela Turner display their ability with business machines.

Marie Porcell and Aimee Remanick work hard to finish their papers on time, but it's difficult when it's first period!

Business Puts It Together With Specialized Skills

Blair's Business Department had some excellent courses for those students who desired or needed to acquire the important skills necessary to enter the business world. Among the specialized courses available were: accounting, typewriting, shorthand, and business machines.

Some accounting and business machine students perhaps thought they would have it easy; they believed the adding machines might do all the work for them. How frustrating it was for those who finished the hour-long task of filling out a balance sheet and then ended up with unequal assets and liabilities which unbalanced the entire sheet!

It was even more difficult for the shorthand student. One had to learn a whole new alphabet and way of writing and then had to work with increasing speed.

Typewriting courses continue to rank on the top in popularity. Many students took one semester for their personal use, and still others went into more advanced courses which prepared them for future vocational work. How hard it was at first when you were not allowed to peek at the keys!

Creativity Promoted In English

There has been, for numerous years, a misconception about English classes. The idea has been that English was just a matter of learning the "shoulds" and "should nots" of grammar, such as: spelling, capitalization, commas, dashes, and writing essays. Students automatically expected an atmosphere of monotony and tradition.

Blair's English teachers tried to remedy the situation this year by encouraging enthusiasm and creativity in the classroom. They tried to accomplish this by introducing various projects and new ideas in writing. A selection of essay theses and topics were usually offered, and sometimes the students were allowed to invent their own. Many interesting books were introduced and teachers stressed that students use their imagination, and develop their point of view in class discussions.

Students were encouraged to speak their opinion and to participate in oral projects. Teachers worked toward these goals with oral reports, current events, and debates on varying issues.

Of course, each class was designated according to skill level. Once new projects and novel ideas were introduced, the flow of creativity was bounded only by each individual and what he wanted to achieve.

MATHEMATICS

Students Work Hard For Success

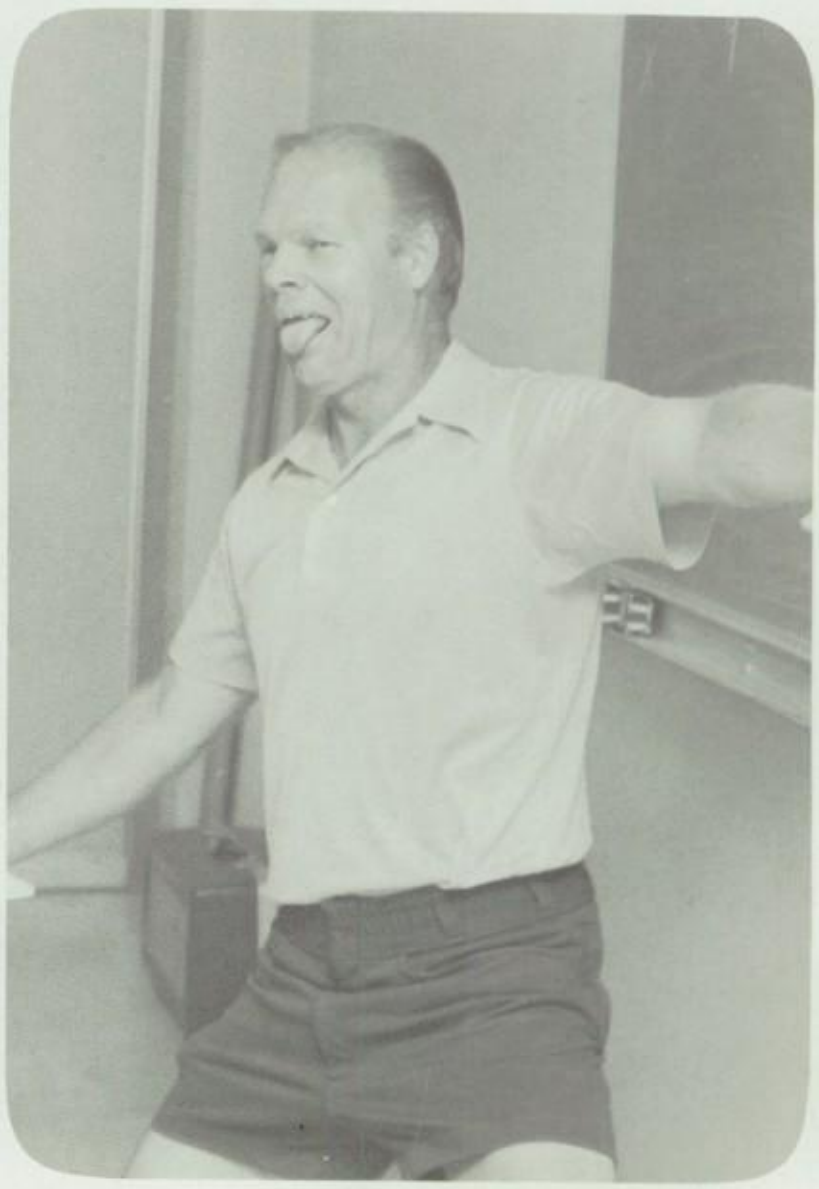
Blair has been known in the past for its rigorous and extensive courses in mathematics, and this past year was no exception. All the classes offered, whether it was math proficiency, or calculus, covered an infinite number of theorems, equations, and problems. Each course was a concentrated preparation for the next, and more advanced course.

It took much concentration and patient listening (hey, wake up!) for math students to understand the complex ideas behind the already-difficult-to-understand theorems. Continual attendance was also necessary for understanding the lessons. If a student missed a couple of days, upon returning to school he or she usually felt as if the teacher was speaking a foreign language. It was very difficult for many students to "keep up" as is common in this field of study, and many often found themselves struggling.

This is where the math teachers came in. As well as giving their fine lectures, they always had the task of helping those students who didn't understand the first, or even the second time around. They could always be counted on to give assistance during class, at lunch, and even after school, if the student was still having problems.

Though not the most thrilling, but certainly one of the most important courses available for the college-bound or even the graduation-bound student, mathematics gives one a feeling of sure-footed satisfaction in conquering one of the more challenging academic subjects.



Mr. Halstead shows what "too much" math can do to a person.

Art - Man's Ancient Communication

Some of man's earliest art forms and communications were paintings on cave walls. About 15,000 years ago, Stone Age men painted about the animals in the environment around them. They also drew pictures depicting methods for survival.

Today, students can find many different ways of expressing themselves through the use of art. Jewelry making, cartooning, ceramics, tie-dyeing, sign painting, and plastic laminating are just a few of the classes being offered in the Art Department. Cartoonists Rhonda Rogers, Raymond Lee, and John Heish have had their cartoons published in the school newspaper, "The North Star".

Students Discover An Alternate Profession

Many students at Blair have aspirations of leaving high school and going on to college. There are still some, though, who find it a more rewarding experience to pursue a career somewhere in the field of industry. Blair's industrial educational courses have offered these students the opportunity to prepare themselves for a productive future.

It required the dedication of hard-working industrial arts teachers to provide the basics of running a printing press or operating a lathe. These teachers devoted a great deal of attention to help students learn the important aspects of industry; they also helped students solve technical problems.

Science: The Sum Of Universal Knowledge

How did we arrive at the sum of universal knowledge? Arrive we did not, but we did take considerable time learning what those before us have discovered; with the assiduous, hard-working teachers of Blair's Science Department.

Many courses were offered for the science-oriented student, and many courses could be applied to college credit. These courses ranged from the life sciences to the physical sciences. Students perservered and had many mind-opening experiences.

The teachers in the Science Department tried diversity in their assignments in order to keep the adrenalin and interest flowing in the classroom. They attained this goal with a variety of experiments ranging from simple seed and leaf charts, to relatively difficult experiments with acids and other critical chemicals. Of course, there were also the routine studies that accompany biology, physiology, chemistry, or physics.

Other valuable assets of the Science Department at Blair were the several survey courses available. Originally intended as an attempt to generate a great interest in science, they were also designed to introduce the students to many fields of science in a period of one semester. These courses aided a great deal in preparing students for their "scientific" futures.

FOREIGN LANGUAG

Have you ever been in a room where everyone was speaking a language which you don't understand? You felt like you were in a place unknown to you; you felt a bit left out. How would you feel if you walked into a classroom at Blair, to find that the teacher would only speak to you in Spanish? In French? Or how about German? Very frustrating indeed!

That's how it was for many students who enrolled in a foreign language course. It seemed that each week the verbs became more strenuous to conjugate, the passages more impossible to translate, and the teacher more difficult to understand. Still, the students struggled through indefinite assignments and their bad pronunciation, in hope that they could enjoy a bit of exchange once the work was finished.

Assuredly, the students were rewarded with lessons which provided the insight to the culture and which enhanced the language they were striving to master. This was executed in a variety of ways. The teachers presented movies, tapes, slides, and films of the various countries which used the language being taught. They also set up several entertaining field trips for the students. These helped the students to relax from the pressure of the class.

The pleasant "get-togethers" were enjoyable and educational. The students tried various native delicacies and exchanged personal knowledge about that "strange place" whose language they were trying to master.

Homemaking Gives Worthy Experience

Blair's Home Economics Department was successful this year in giving the students enrolled in its various courses the valuable learning experiences important to know around the home and in the world as well.

The cooking classes offered students the chance to learn about nutrition and to develop a shopping awareness. Of course, the best part of the class was cooking the meals themselves. Students started with simple dishes such as omlettes and tacos, and advanced to more difficult and glamorous entrees, such as casseroles and fried chicken.

The sewing classes encouraged students to learn to create their own wardrobe in the colors and styles they wished. This not only decreased clothing costs, but gave students the personal satisfaction of having made something useful on their own.

Also offered by Blair's Home Economics Department were interesting and informative courses such as Child Growth and Development, and Restaurant Occupations.

Blair Offers Help For Everyone

There were some students attending Blair with a special learning disability which prevented them from learning and excelling in their education in the average classroom atmosphere. Most of these students were mainstreamed into regular classes for two or three periods but because of their special problems, they needed extra help in certain areas.

The Special Education Department at Blair offered services for six different kinds of disabilities. These disabilities were: deaf and hard of hearing, visually disabled, oral language problems, speech or voice impairments, educationally handicapped, and learning problems.

A variety of programs were available to suit each student's individual needs. Some of the programs available were: lip reading and sign language for the deaf and hard of hearing students, mobility instruction for the visually disabled, speech therapy for students with a language problem, mobility instruction for the visually disabled, adaptive physical education for the physically handicapped, and special classes for individuals whose speed of learning was slower than that of the average student.

We should be proud that Blair offered such programs to help those in need. After all, everyone has some sort of disability; it's only that for the special education student, the handicap might be more noticeable, that's all.

Pupils Unearth Antiquarianisms

Social science courses are not electives at Blair, they are requirements for graduation. Students had to take a social science course each of the four years spent in high school. These courses were usually misrepresented. One anticipated the monotony of reading about the history of the world, drawing and labeling maps, and attending to tedious homework assignments.

But in truth, Blair's Social Science Department offered much more. The social science teachers spent a great deal of time this year communicating to their students about the important issues of the world. Keeping students informed on community, national, and international events was a major role fulfilled by the Social Science Department.

Students were encouraged to voice their opinions and ask questions during class discussions, forums, debates and in the student Senate. This method of tackling the social science subjects proved an excellent process and aroused pupil interest and cooperation. It showed many students how not just history but all the social sciences apply to everything around us; to that world out there!

A Peacock Among Pigeons

This year the Blair High school choir can be paralleled to "a bird with many feathers". Our chorus was a peacock among pigeons. They were a unique group of individuals striving to develop their singing, dancing, and acting capabilities to the fullest extent possible.

With guidance from Director James Coday, the chorus was an example of how students of different ages, races, and nationalities could assemble into one unified group. Music, dedication, and the enjoyment of singing were the key factors that brought these students together.

Music is the universal language. It dates back to Stone Age men beating sticks, singing praises, and dancing together in ancient rites. Today it's Barry Manilow, Barbra Streisand, Carly Simon, Earth, Wind, and Fire, and James Coday's Choir that provide our listening pleasure.

Dedication was the key word; giving up ever-so-precious lunch time, faithfully practicing, intently rehearsing, and joyously lifting one's voice. Dedication is demanded for success.

Blair's chorus presented a polished, professional Christmas concert at the First Congregational Church in Pasadena and the annual Christmas assembly was a splendid performance. This year the chorus also performed a pageant for the Pasadena City Women's Club and had the pleasure of singing for the prestigious California State Board of Education. The year culminated with the participation of many chorus members in Kaleidoscope.

P.E. Shapes Us Up

The Physical Education Department played an essential role at Blair this past year in keeping all the students healthy and well-toned. This was considered valuable as part of one's needed education.

Naturally, there were team sports and competitive sports after school. These were also a responsibility of the Physical Education Department. In addition, there were many students that wished to participate in sports on a non-competitive basis. The Physical Education Department took care of this by supplying a vast selection of courses: aquatics, badminton, basketball, bicycling, folk dancing, golf, handball, modern dance, raquetball, self-defense, tennis, track, and volleyball. In all of these courses, students could elect to take the class on a co-educational basis if so desired.

Another important responsibility of the Physical Education Department was preparing students for the relatively arduous physical fitness tests which are given annually in March. These tests last approximately a week, and much drilling of the skills is needed in preparation for them. These tests include: the six-minute walk-run, pushups, situps, sidesteps, pullups, and long jump.

Our Performing Thespians

Some of Blair's talented students in dramatic arts are interested in pursuing a theatrical career. These thespians had the opportunity to perform in two productions this year. Each one contained different themes and the authors represented different cultures.

Tom Jones, a play by Henry Fielding, was performed early in the year. Satire was the main tool and theme of the play. Henry Fielding used his plays as an instrument to initiate his social reforms.

There have been many plays written about people and the ways in which they change. Sabrina Fair was a metamorphic drama about a young girl's transformation into high society and womanhood. The time period was the late 60's. The settings are in the city of Paris, and the state of Rhode Island. The drama class gave a moving performance in their presentation of this play.

Due to our still nonexistent school auditorium, the productions had to be held in the William McKinley Auditorium. Our actors proved their flexibility and adaptability to difficult situations and environments. There was no theatre to rehearse in on a daily basis. Preparation time for scenery was short and construction had to be simplified. But despite these adversities, the drama class was able to stage two outstanding performances.

Even though Lita Haido thinks "LA's the Place," she reminisces about all the good times she has had in New York.

DRAMA

David Herington demonstrates that knowing your lines is a key factor in the presentation of an accomplished play.

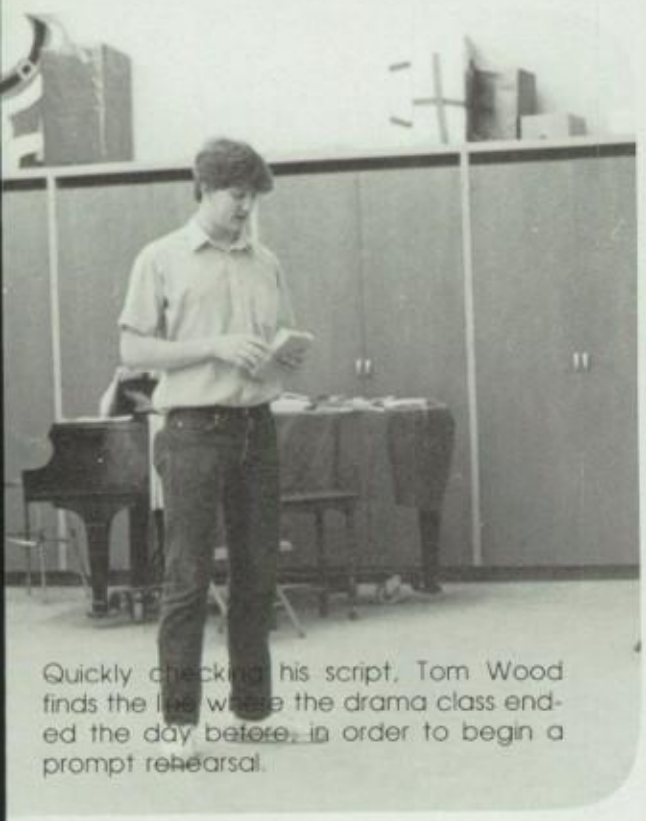
While waiting for her cue to enter, Amy Koo sits and intensely watches the other actors.



Quickly checking his script, Tom Wood finds the line where the drama class ended the day before, in order to begin a prompt rehearsal.

Band Boosts Spirit

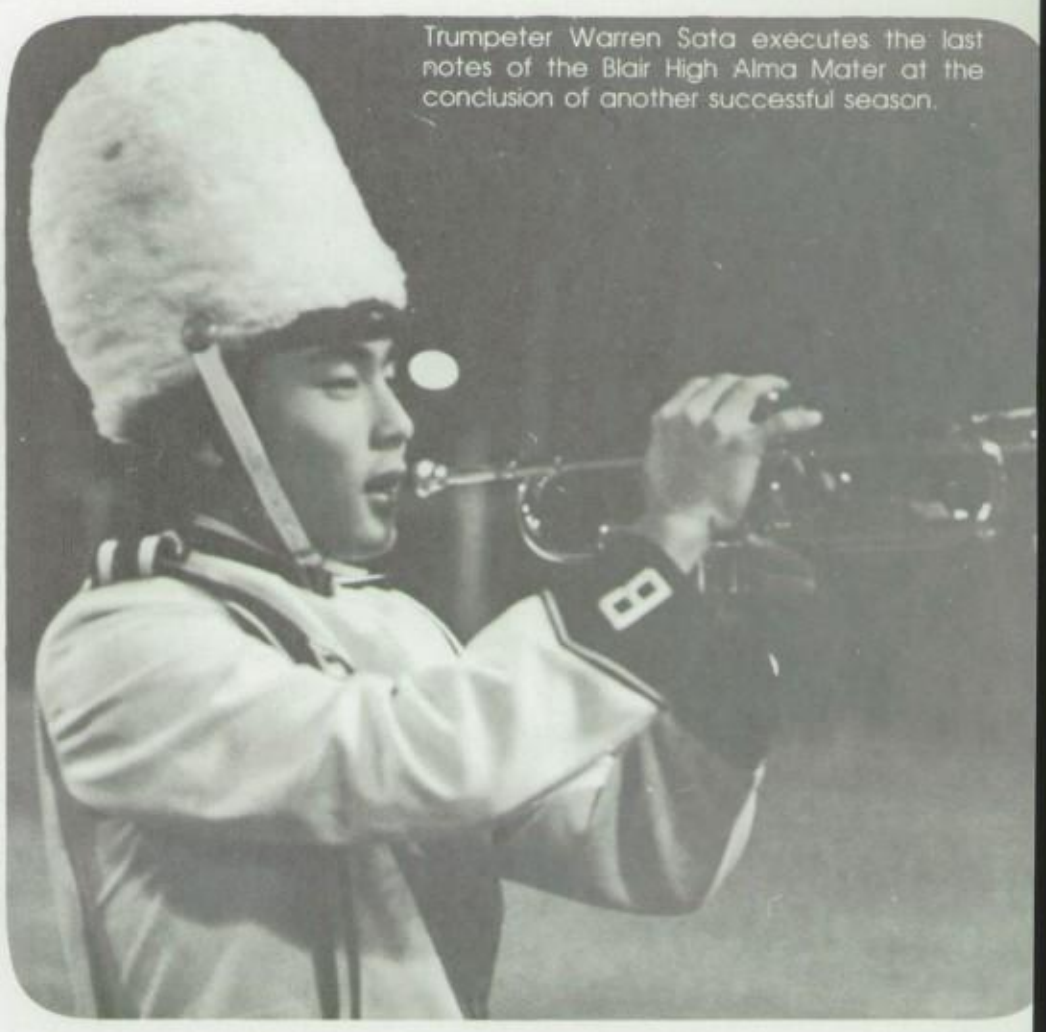
At the opening of the 1980-81 school year Blair High School was fortunate to see the return of Band Director Stephen Kaminsky. He had originally taught at Blair between the years of 1970 to 1975. His dedication toward the band could be seen in the long hours he spent before, during and after school in rehearsal.

Meeting new friends, playing your favorite music, and just having a great time were some of the reasons why the band had such a vital role at Blair. It also had the important function of arousing student spirit. This year the band not only aroused spirit, but greatly added to that spirit at the pep assemblies and football games.

In cooperation with the Pasadena High School Band, the combined bands presented a spectacular performance of "The Star-Spangled Banner" prior to the Blair-PHS football game in the Rose Bowl. At half time our band produced an exciting interpretation of the themes for the "Rockford Files" and "Rocky". At Burroughs High School the Blair band had the honor of performing during the half time show.

At Homecoming, with the help of the Tall Flags and Drill Team, the entire unit gave its most moving performance. Drum Major Terry Lewis, a two year veteran, coordinated the entire routine.



Trumpeter Warren Sata executes the last notes of the Blair High Alma Mater at the conclusion of another successful season.

The Blair band, led by Drum Majors Terry Lewis and Warren Sata, march to another rousing pep assembly.

Mr. Kaminsky leads the band in another round of "Anchors Away" in the center of the Amphitheater.

PEOPLE

Our experiences at Blair were determined by our teachers, friends, parents and ourselves - by people. Listening and relating to people is the most important part of our education. Never again will we have such a large group of people with whom we share our everyday lives. This is what we will miss most about our years at Blair.

Seniors Pull It Together

Once in high school, one looks forward to their Senior year with an eager eye. The Class of 1981 finally made it. After three years as unsure Freshmen, aspiring Sophomores, and enthusiastic Juniors, they reached the climax - they had become Seniors.

The Seniors were now faced with many new responsibilities, decisions, and opportunities. The most pressing obligation was that of raising money. The Seniors had run into many difficulties in reaching a monetary goal in previous years. With a determined and organized advisor, Mrs. Gladys Roshko, they decided that they would pull it together and raise enough money for a successful prom. The money began to flow in the first semester with a profit of over $1,000. Included in the various fund raisers were a dance which provided $800 and a party which produced $300.

The increased funds were due to an increase in participation. The Seniors united in their last year through a growth in spirit, enthusiasm, and pride. They became a class.

As they left Blair they took with them a multitude of memories. They would never forget the activities and people who made their Senior year so outstanding.

With graduation came an end to an important period of their lives and subsequently opened up another. Although the Seniors were headed in various directions there would remain inside each one a closeness to those who had shared this time together.

The Class of 1981 thanks everyone at Blair for making their high school experience so memorable and especially Mrs. Roshko for her leadership, dedication, time, and help.

Juniors Prove Unity Equals Success

This year began with several difficult challenges for the Junior Class. Although there was only a small amount of money remaining in the treasury, the Junior Class still hoped to reach its goal of raising at least $3,000. This, compounded with the non-attendance of Juniors at their activities, presented a problem. Yet, with strong leadership, the support of the newly appointed advisor Mr. Bruce Wallace, and the dedication of a small group of Juniors, these difficulties were quickly overcome.

The Juniors opened their year with a T-shirt sale at registration. The sale proved to be such a fantastic success that it continued during the first several weeks of school, not only boosting the pocketbook but also the pride of the Junior Class.

Because of this success, new faces could be seen at the class meetings and with them came new ideas. Junior activities such as the car wash, Homecoming flower sale, mistletoe sale, Christmas and noontime dances, increased the balance in the treasury and also created a sense of unity for the class. This togetherness was observed at the assemblies where Juniors yelled, blew horns, threw confetti, carried balloons, and chanted "Junior Power" to drown out the other classes' attempts at spirit.

This spirit and enthusiasm was carried through into second semester and by the end of the year, the Junior Class had met their financial goal. Due to their new feeling of togetherness, the Juniors had an exceedingly constructive and enjoyable year and look forward to becoming the best Senior Class in the history of Blair High School.

Sophomore Class Makes Progress

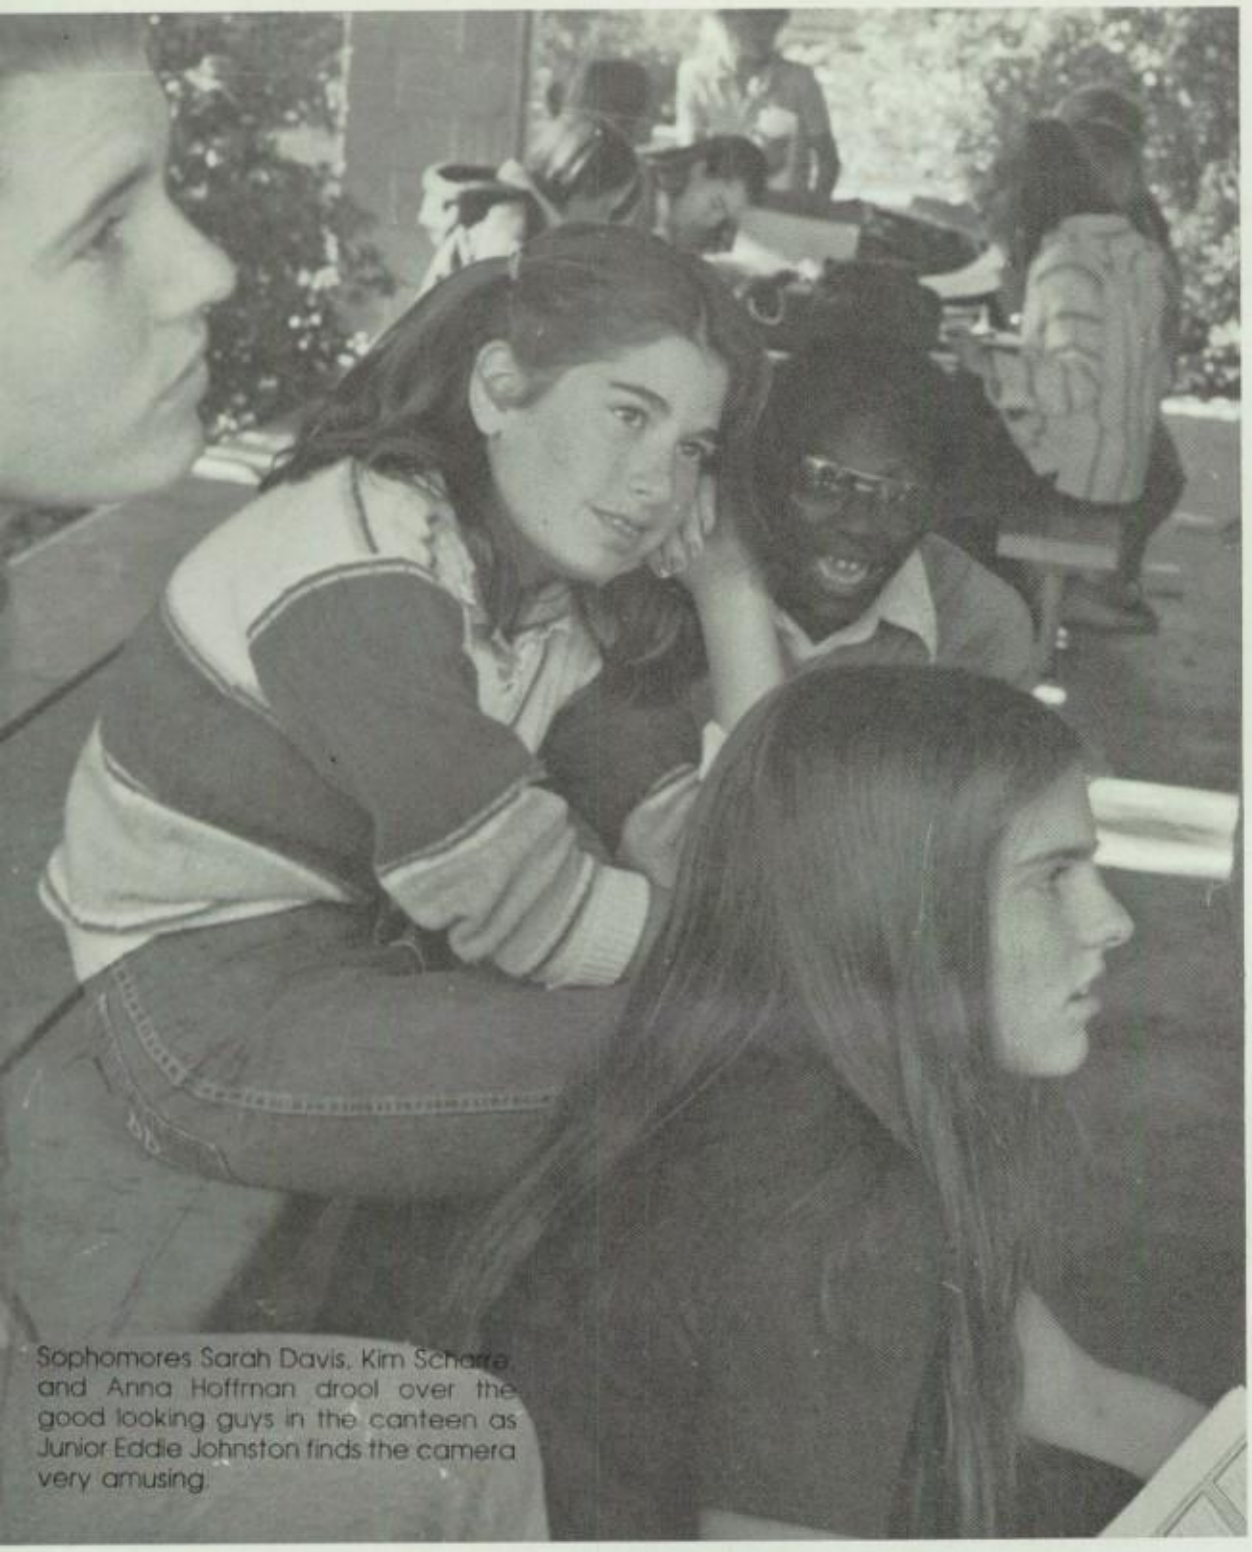
With the passing of another year, the Class 1983 managed to overcome a majority of the obstacles which beset them in the past.

Their primary difficulty was one of finances. Although their previous endeavors in this area had been futile, they were determined to advance toward their goal - the Senior Prom. Beginning the year with a minimal amount of funds and a lack of organization was a definite dilemma. Yet with new people and new ideas, this predicament was quickly solved. Such activities as boo-grams and sucker sales, although not extremely profitable, did improve the financial status and spirit of the class. With this increased confidence, the Sophomore class began to move!

The class began their fight by striving to obtain more unity and organization. They realized the key to a prosperous class was togetherness and set this as their goal. Their new enthusiasm raised many an eyebrow, especially since being a Freshman was no longer a valid excuse for any mistakes they made. Yet their determination to achieve their goal was unalterable, and along with the raised eyebrows came admiration and respect for a class with so much fortitude.

By the end of the year, the Class of 1983 had changed from a disjointed cluster of individuals to a large, distinct group with authority, able to handle their financial problems and have fun at the same time. They look forward to their next two years at Blair and to being the "class of classes"!



Sophomores Sarah Davis, Kim Schaefer, and Anna Hoffman drool over the good looking guys in the canteen as Junior Eddie Johnston finds the camera very amusing.

Susan Oyakawa tries to determine which is more interesting, the football game or the cameraman.

Freshmen Class Displays Style

Once again Blair was joined this Septembe by clusters of students known as the Freshmen soon to be recognized as the Class of 1984. Their young faces conveyed every sort of expression imaginable; from curiosity and eagerness to inexperience and uncertainty. Yet neither the hard-working Sophomores, boisterous Juniors or confident Seniors had the irreputable "But, I'm only a Freshman" excuse for any unorthodox antics. Nor did the other classes possess the special advantage of beginning a new experience together. The Class of '84 was on its way!

Unfortunately, it was a slow start. Lacking the usual funds from the prior graduating class, the Freshmen had to start from scratch. Their efforts began with a refreshment sale at Homecoming. This earned them enough profit to finance their next activity, a balloon sale. The success of both these fund raisers inspired the Class of '84 to plan more activities for second semester. As they acquired a substantial financial balance they gained confidence and experience.

The Class of '84 had a quality rarely seen in most Freshmen; that quality was spirit! Their loud voices could be heard at every occasion. This enthusiasm and self-assurance proved that the Class of 1984 would continue to excel in the years to come!

Eddie Vita, Tommy Seeker, and Mateo Torres display various degrees of enthusiasm for the female attractions at lunch time.

Pat Mason enthusiastically describes the flying saucer he saw last night to a skeptical friend.

Unable to participate in this year's spring show, Alise Stellwagen, Katya Armistead, and Jeanne Pursel decide to create their own show for the lunch time crowd.

Dianna Lau is aided by some Senior friends in experiencing a rare new form of entertainment; shaving cream!

I may have a good opportunity for you

In fact, the Army has hundreds of opportunities you could apply for and probably get.

If you qualify, we'll guarantee your choice of training in fields like law enforcement, food service, medicine, dentistry, pharmacology, intelligence, communications, or many others.

You can select your job now and go after graduation under the Army's Delayed Entry Program. The best jobs go fast so reserve your training now. For more information, give me a call.

HAPPY TRAILS TO YOU

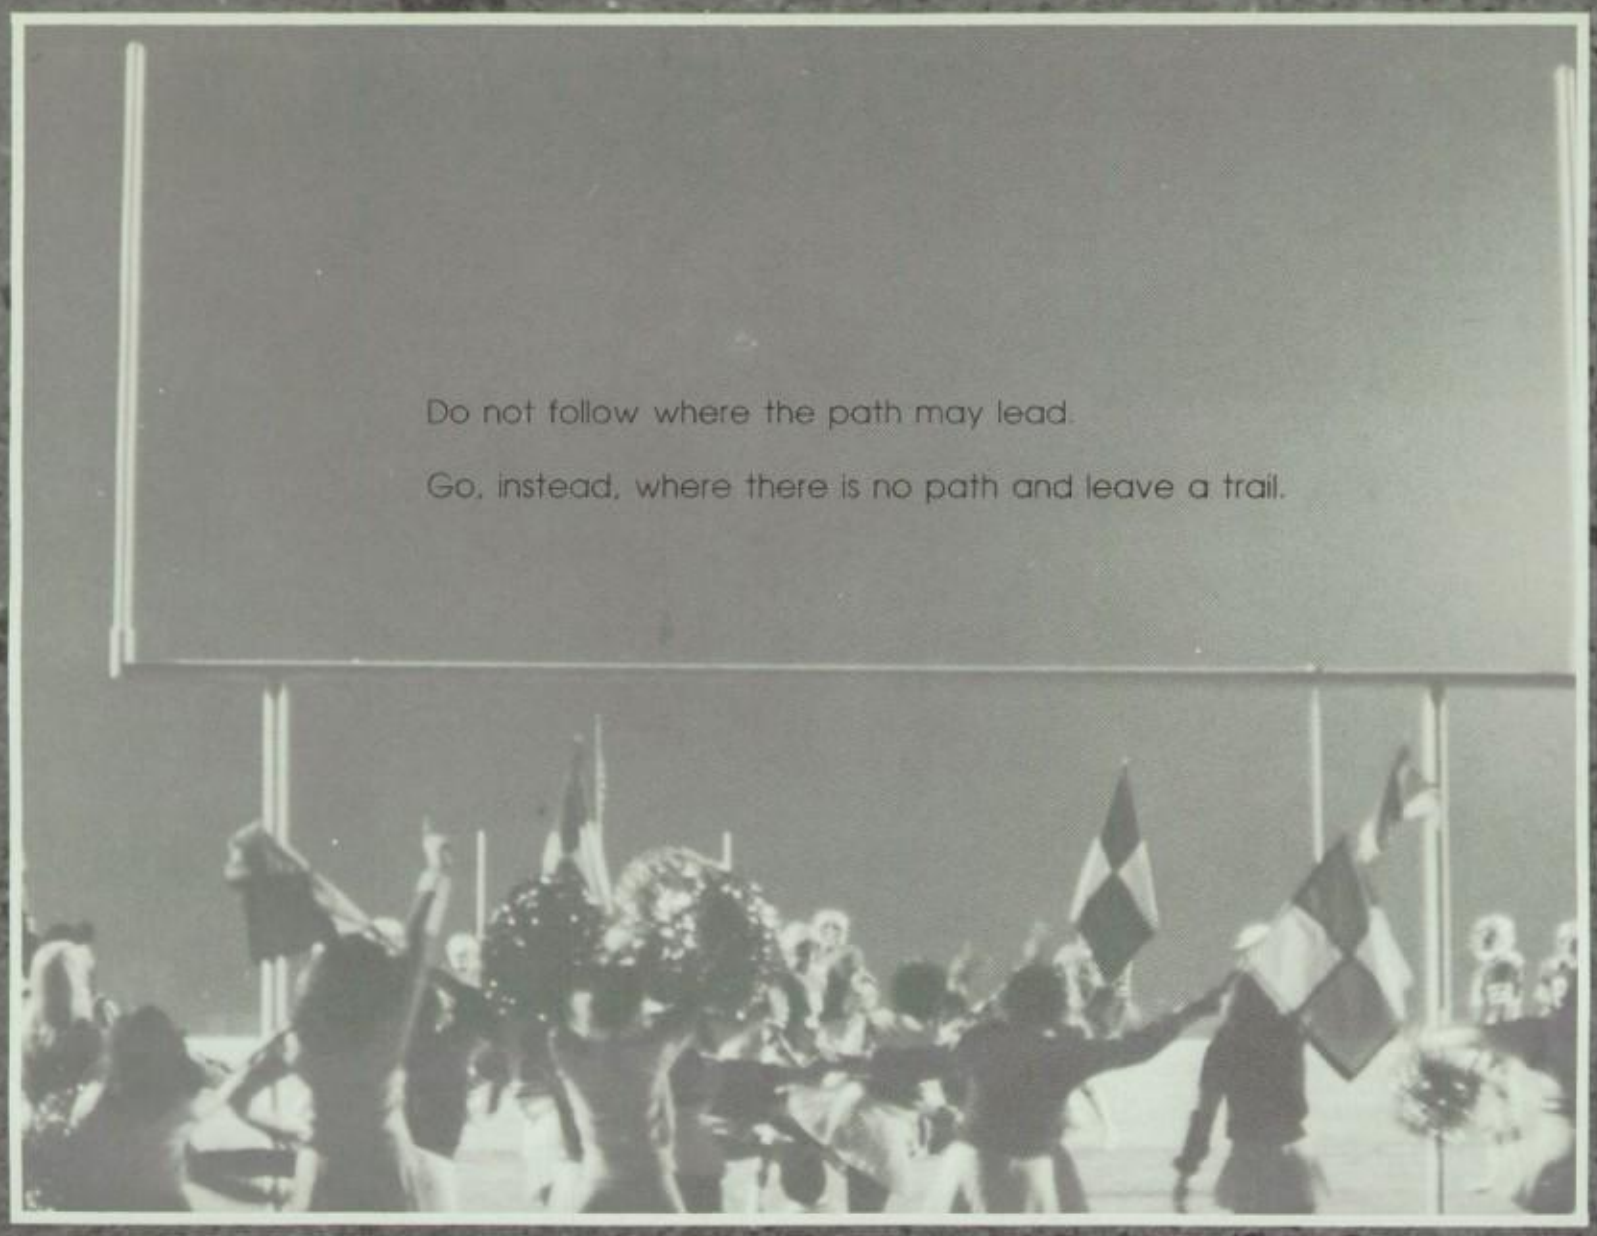
When it's time to go it's time to go.



Do not follow where the path may lead.
Go, instead, where there is no path and leave a trail.

This year, as every year, the yearbook couldn't have been produced without a dedicated staff and the help of many generous people. We would like to thank Mr. Edward Cornachio, W.M. Ellinger, Annie Laurie Esbenshade, Reggie Newton, Anthony Valejo, and Mr. Reuben Madrid of Madrid Photography for their photographic contributions. We would also like to thank Mr. Jim Dangerfield, Mr. Gerry Garden, Sonya Hamilton, Mrs. Gladys Roshko and many other helpful individuals for giving up their time and energy to assist us. Last, but not least, we would like to thank Winchell's, Del Taco, and McDonalds for sustaining us through many long and continous hours of yearbook torture.

Well the year sure did go by fast didn't it. It sure was fun having you in english, and you and Marcia screaming at each other. Well, have a really great summer and keep cool. Wont next year be fun when we're Seniors yea!

Your Friends,
Andie Martinez

CLASS OF '82" RULES

-Chris-

I'm glad you and me got to know each other this semester during 1st (Biology). Also, thanx for taking me out a couple of times, and for taking me home when I needed a ride. You're a really sweet person, and hopefully you'll stay that way. Take care, and have a nice summer,

Luv

Well I haven't known you for long, but I'm glad we had the chance to become friends. I think you're really nice. It was fun having you in health. I hope we can be better friends in the near future! Have a cool summer and take care. Maybe we can have a class together next year! Do I talk too much? I hope I don't but you know me I can't shut up for 2 seconds. I hope I didn't bother you all those times I talked to you, & I hope you're not mad at me for always sending you to the front of the room (In Daniel's words) Well I'd better go now I'll see ya next year! Bye now

PS Thanks for giving me a ride home that day !!!

Love always
Wendy Nicholas

Chris,
Well, I can honestly say that having you in English has made it more lively. There is no need to wish you luck because you don't need it. Anyway have a great summer and I'll see you in the unemployment line (ha, ha!)

Love

Beverly
